Hanneke Cassel Benefit Concert
Sunday at the Truculent Oyster

The Coast Is Clear by Evan Kramer

Finally two full days of sun shine upon the south coast and out come the lawnmowers and brush cutters. Or how about a walk along the beach south of Cape Blanco where I hear a glass float was found washed ashore recently. Jeannette McAulliffe, a waitress at the Whale Cove told me her brother has found three glass floats over the last two weeks. Last time I was out walking the beach I found a rusting and destroyed crab pot and a plastic float.

Arts Festival 93 is now one week away and the town and road are ready for a big crowd. There is one significant change to the Arts Festival 93 schedules which have been printed and are being distributed. The pancake breakfast sponsored by the Port Orford emergency services has been cancelled. It was to have taken place on Saturday morning at the fire station. At a recent meeting of the volunteer fire department the members decided to cancel the breakfast in light of the problems experienced by local restaurants during the recent Highway 101 closure. They felt the breakfast would take away more of their business. The fund raising breakfast will be rescheduled for another time.

On Monday evening the volunteer fire department tested out its newest piece of equipment. It's a former U.S. Air Force jet fuel tanker now doing service for the Port Orford Fire Department as a tanker pumper. It has been rigged up with a deluge gun on top of the tank. Monday night water was shot out of it approximately onto the beach at Battle Rock from high above. It gives the department many additional capabilities especially in those "hard to get at" areas.

One of the 22 events of the Arts Festival is the carriage rides through town provided by K-M Corral. The carriage is pulled by Bill who spends most of his time on Coast Guard Hill. Sunday is not only the third and final day for the Arts Festival but also Mother's Day. That might be a nice surprise for mother, taking her for a ride on a horse drawn carriage through the oldest townsite on the Oregon Coast.

Meetings, meetings, meetings... Several important public meetings are coming up starting tonight, April 29, with a meeting held by the Division of State Lands Kelp Advisory Committee at the Senior Center in Port Orford from 6:30-8:00pm. The Advisory Committee is seeking comments from the public concerning whether the state should enter into leases for small scale commercial harvest of kelp.

The week of May 3-7 Curry County holds its budget committee meetings at the Courthouse Annex in Gold Beach. Public comment is taken at these sessions. This is the time and place where the financial pie for the County is divided up. Interestingly, less than 10% of Curry County's budget revenue comes from the property taxes collected in the county. The first budget meeting starts on Monday afternoon at 1:30pm in the courthouse annex. The budget covers the period from July 1, 1993 - June 30, 1994.

The regularly scheduled meeting of the Port Orford-Langlois 2CJ school board is the second Tuesday evening of every month. The month of May sees the schedule moved up a week with their regular meeting taking place on the first Tuesday in the month, May 4, at 8:00pm in the library room at Pacific High School.

There are still tickets available for Sunday's benefit performance and brunch at the Truculent Oyster for Hanneke Cassel. She is the national junior Scottish fiddle champion and will be performing with her mother Diane, Starr McMullen, and Frank Moore. The proceeds will be used to send Hanneke to the Isle of Skye Fiddle School in Scotland. There should be some mighty fine picking at the Truculent.

Music lovers will also want to attend the Bay Area Adult Concert Band which will present a free concert at 7:30pm on Thursday, April 29th at Pacific High School.

All in all, the month of May is shaping up to be one exciting month for Port Orford!

Hughes House Opens

The historic Hughes House at Cape Blanco will have its grand opening for the 1993 season on Friday, May 1. There will be several unique craft demonstrations on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday - May 7, 8, 9 as part of Port Orford Arts Festival 93.

These demonstrations will include floral creations, calligraphy and pewter smithing.

The hours for the Hughes House are Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Monday, 10:00am - 5:00pm and Sundays from 12:00-5:00pm. The home is closed on Tuesday and Wednesday. It will be open from May 1st to September 30th.

Each year the Friends of Cape Blanco try to complete the authentic restoration of at least one room. This year the newly restored kitchen will be viewed along with the restoration work in progress on the Men's Parlor. The Hughes House is the finest example of Eastlake Victorian Architecture on the South Coast.

The House was built entirely of old growth Port Orford Cedar and is impervious to the ravages of time. It could not be rebuilt today for one million dollars.

Hughes House is located at Cape Blanco State Park. Follow Cape Blanco Road west approximately 5 miles from Highway 101 to get there.

Big Top On The Way

The Culpepper and Merriweather circus is coming to Port Orford on Saturday, May 22. The circus is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and will perform two shows, at 2:00 and 4:00pm.

This totally traditional circus will set up the Big Top at Driftwood Elementary School. All are welcome to watch as the tent goes up and the show goes on. It features aerial artists, clowns, liberty ponies, performing dogs, jugglers and more. The star of the circus is Barbara, the nine year old African elephant rescued after poachers had killed her mother for the tusks.

Discount priced advance sale tickets are available at the following locations:

More On DOS 6.0

Reports continue to come in about problems with DOS 6.0. Microsoft has reportedly acknowledged problems with Sharp notebook computers models 6781 and 6881. Acer America Corp.'s BIOS versions prior to 1.2 Rev. 4 are reported to have problems as are systems which use a file named "ASPI4DOS.SYS" to support a second SCSI device (such as a CD-ROM). At the same time one must consider that more than 2.2 million copies of DOS 6 have been shipped in the last two weeks and most users have not had problems.

With any new system software, and even more so with DOS 6, it is recommended you back up your hard disk to floppys or tape before installing the upgrade. You should also know how to use the F5 key to bypass the config.sys and autoexec.bat files if necessary. See pg 103 in your DOS 6 manual.

Computer bulletin board users are at it again. First they invented smileys, those cute little faces :- ) that spice up their mail. Now their new fad is "Tag Lines." A tag line is a short statement attached to the end of an electronic message - sort of like a bumper sticker. Some of them are pretty cute. Here are some samples...

Dear Editor

The following recommendation was presented to the entire membership of the Port Orford-Langlois Teachers Association. It was approved by 29 of the 34 members. There was one abstention.

Port Orford-Langlois Teachers' Association recommends delaying consideration of Mr. Wold's contract. Delaying consideration until the present contract expires at the end of the 1993-1994 school year....

1. Allows the new board to consult teachers and principals about Mr. Wold's job performance

2. Allows the new board more time to consider community input.

Clam Chowder Cook-Off

After 18 years of Clam Chowder Cook-Offs, this Gold Beach tradition is known for producing unique and tasty versions of the coastal favorite. May 1-2 at the Curry County Fairgrounds, the 18th annual Clam Chowder Cook-Off and Feed will offer another opportunity for chowder chefs to put their best clam forward and for chowder lovers to vote for the chowder of their choice.

Chefs will toil over their best version of New England Clam Chowder, vying for the peoples vote and a $100 cash prize. Special second place collects $75 and $50 goes to third. Local restaurateurs will take a turn judging the clammy creations and will give the winner a VIP award of $40.

Chowder pros can enter the Cook-Off simply by calling the Curry County Fairgrounds at 503-247-4541. This year's contest is for New England style clam chowder only. Tickets for the Cook-Off are $3.50 for adults and $1.50 for children under 10.

Proceeds from the event go towards maintaining the Curry County Historical Museum.

Other events this busy weekend at the Fairgrounds include the Innominata Flower Show at Docia Sweet Hall and motocross racing in the Fairgrounds Arena Pavilion.

Works may be free standing or wall-hung. If a display stand or display case is needed, please furnish one for your piece. Electric power is not available for the sculptures, but incorporating your own by battery is acceptable. Entries should be delivered on Thursday, May 6th, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. to the Steelblue Chameleon Lodge, 94893 Elk River Road, Port Orford, phone 332-3140.

This program is sponsored by the Port Orford Arts Council as part of the annual Arts Festival festivities, which are funded by local businesses and arts patrons, and with funds from the City of Port Orford transient tax for advertising the festival activities.

Junk Sculpture Contest

The Junk Sculpture Committee of the Port Orford Arts Festival is again issuing a call to all collectors of bits and pieces: The Second Annual Junk Sculpture Show will be held Mother's Day weekend, May 7, 8, and 9, at the Steelblue Chameleon Lodge, as part of the Lodge's many Arts Festival events.

Last year's collection of junk sculptures covered a wide spectrum of types, from delicate collages and assembled glass pieces, to engine parts welded into a humanoid form, with pet. We're looking forward to another enthusiastic response to this year's junk sculpture invitation, says Joyce Spicer, a committee member, and we especially encourage group collaborations, professional, amateur, and student.
