Pack Up The Tent by Valerie Jean Kramer

Well, the Culpepper & Merriweather Great Combined Circus has been and gone. Their tent was raised in Port Orford on Saturday morning and was packed and gone by Sunday morning. They left behind a lot of great memories and numerous coloring books, programs, balloons, and other souvenirs which we all bought to remind us of an afternoon's fun.

I thoroughly enjoyed myself and, though I wasn't allowed to videotape the acts, I did get some footage of Chamber of Commerce Vice President Al Affonso riding Barbara the elephant. Seems like almost everyone had a good time, especially the young (and young at heart!) Even the weather cooperated.

Those of you who attended the 4pm show (or who missed the circus completely) missed a great bit of comical irony. After performing marvels on the tightrope, the high-wire artist returned to the ring where he stumbled over the tarp on the ground. Some days you just can't win.

A sad aspect to the circus for us, was the fact that Evan was unable to attend. He had pushed hard to get the Chamber to sponsor the circus. He worked hard to sell tickets. He was looking forward to seeing it - all he could talk about was the circus. Then on Friday May 21, his mother, Jan Kramer, passed away suddenly and unexpectedly. Instead of packing the tent, Evan had to pack a suitcase and head south to Los Angeles to be with his family.

Meanwhile the Circus isn't the only one to have packed it's tent. Seems like a lot of people have packed their tents, or at least their suitcases and RV's and headed our way. I hear from several store owners that business has improved. Hold onto your hat folks, here comes another tourist season.

We can't have a tourist season without something for the tourists (and the rest of us) to do. Lots of excitement planned for the next couple of weeks! This weekend is the Memorial Day weekend which, back east, marks the official beginning of summer season - the time when amusement parks and tourist oriented businesses open for their brief flurry of activity until Labor Day.

Get started on your summer adventure this weekend in Brookings at their 54th Annual Azalea Festival May 28-31. I'm not much of a flower lover but it looks like they have something for everyone. On Friday there's a flower show (9-6pm) and plant sale (10-5pm.) I wish I could see the Invention Convention at the Grade School (6-9pm.) On Saturday you can start with a pancake breakfast (7-10), shop at the Crafters' Market (8-6pm) or Library Book Sale (9-4pm). You'll want to see the parade at 10am. You won't have time (or energy) to see every art show, quilt show, open house, food event,

Langlois Library Open House

Books, toys, games, entertainment, home-made cookies - all this and more will be at the Langlois Public Library on Saturday, June 5 from 10:00 to 2:00pm.

Every kid loves toys and we will have the best for you to buy for the kids in your life. Discovery Toys are educational, sturdy, affordable and just plain fun! Every toy you purchase will benefit the development of the children's section of the library. There will also be a wide selection of new children's books for your review. Purchase a book for the library and we will proudly dedicate that book to your child.

The Langlois Library Story Hour Kids will perform while you enjoy the refreshments and decide just which toys and books to buy. The library staff and Board of Directors will be on hand to answer questions about how the library has expanded and enhanced its programs for children and youth. This is the perfect chance to learn all the details about the upcoming Summer Reading Program.

For a full day of fun, food, and frolic, be sure to be at the Langlois Public Library between 10:00 and 2:00 on Saturday, June 5. See you there.

DOS 6.0 Cure

DOS 6.0 has received a lot of bad publicity for problems that aren't its fault. In many cases, the problem has been a result of user error or bugs in other programs. Many of the difficulties center around the new version of SMARTDRV disk cacheing software.

Previous versions of DOS didn't install Smartdrv. If you diligently read the DOS manual and explored your DOS files, you could learn it existed and how to install and use it. Your reward was a faster computer since the program can make disk accesses 10,000+ times faster!

DOS 6.0 automatically installs Smartdrv for you. This would be great except for two things. First, installing additional software leaves less RAM for other programs. Some may refuse to run and at least one did not correctly report the reason for failing which made it look like DOS 6 was at fault.

The second problem is that the new version of Smartdrv is faster because it does not have a "write thru" cache. In a write thru cache, when you tell a program to save data to disk, it does so immediately and your data is safely on disk. With the new Smartdrv, the program only stores your data to the cache (in RAM.) Later, when Smartdrv determines your computer isn't busy, it will copy the data from the cache and store it safely on the hard disk. This intelligent use of the computer's resources makes for faster operation. BUT, if you save a file, exit your program and turn off the computer, the data may not yet have been saved to disk and is therefore lost! You need to wait and give the cache a chance to catch up! OR, you can install SMARTPMT which is available on our BBS at 332-0159.

Smartpmt forces the cache to save everything to disk whenever you return to a DOS prompt. Just copy the program to your hard disk and put the "smartpmt" command in your AUTOEXEC.BAT file to load it into memory every time you boot up. With Smartpmt active, it's safe to turn power off or re-boot any time you are at a DOS prompt.

It's The Law

On May 27, 1952 the U.S. Supreme Court reviewed a test case involving an Italian film called, "The Miracle." They ruled that a state cannot bar the showing of a film on the ground that it was "sacrilegious" because there is no such offense at civil law.

On May 27, 1935 the same court declared the National Industrial Recovery Act unconstitutional. The act was an attempt to end the depression by regulating industry by "codes" governing it. Looks like the congress figured out a way to make an end run around this decision!

music event, car wash, square dance, or cruise. Sunday is more of the same and includes a bluegrass concert (noon-6:30pm), street fair & children's carnival (10-7pm) etc. If you still have any energy left on Monday, you can attend a jewelry sale, more art show & craft sales, Go Kart Gran Prix Races, street fair, beer garden or Big-Time Bingo. Who would ever have thought Azaleas could be so much fun?

If, on the other hand, you're heading north this weekend, Bandon also has some festivities scheduled. It starts with the Blessing of the Fleet at 10am on Saturday. Following that, the Bandon Storm Watchers Seafood & Wine Festival gets rolling (11am-5pm) with fun, food, exhibits, and contests at The Barn / Community Center in Bandon City Park. If you don't get enough on Saturday, come on back 11-5pm on Sunday and do it all again! On Monday from 7:30am-1:00pm, there will be a Sandcastle / Sand Sculpture contest on the beach in Bandon near the intersection of Beach Loop Road and Seabird Lane. $5 registration gets you a chance to win several prizes. Get your bucket and shovel ready.

Of course, you don't have to go out of Port Orford to have fun. On Saturday, May 29 from 6:00 to 9:00pm you can attend the opening reception for the newest exhibition at the Cook Gallery - Sculpted Turned Wood Vessels by Hugh McKay. From 8:00am-Noon the OES will offer a pancake breakfast at the Masonic Hall. Later on Sunday you can enjoy an informal afternoon of music, art exhibits, and refreshments at the Roaring Sea Studio Gallery.

Next weekend holds more major events for the South Coast. The Langlois Library will hold an open house / fund raiser on Saturday June 5 and will be selling books and Discovery Toys. Sounds like a neat place to visit!

On a somewhat larger scale, the June 4-6 weekend is also the annual Jet Boat Races on the Rogue River. If that isn't enough, the same weekend will see the "Gay 90's" celebration in Coquille. We'll have more details next week.

Remember to stay tuned to this station — the summer is just starting!
