Jackpot! by Evan Kramer

Last Saturday's Lil' Reno night in Port Orford was one great party. I can only hope the Lightin' Bugs made a lot of money for their Christmas light effort in town.

The evening started with a delicious barbecue beef and fixings dinner prepared by head chef Bill McMullen with a lot of help from other Bug members. The meal was prepared and served in the American Legion Hall. We're quite fortunate in this town that their hall is located right next to the Community Building. That way when a group wants to serve a meal with their function they can use the Legion Hall for the food while using the community building which has a stage for music and dancing.

Games of chance abounded at the Lil' Reno night. It wasn't easy getting a seat at the crowded blackjack tables. The Flipper was popular as was the roulette wheel. But it was the Lucky Wheel where history was made. The wheel had been reconfigured this year to provide better odds for the people. That done, it took one steadfast and determined wheel player to go into the record books. Valerie sat down at the table with ten dollars worth of one dollar chips and when she got up to redeem her chips for prizes she had approximately $5,000 worth! Let's put it this way the house ran out of ten dollar blue chips and was issuing winnings to her on a piece of paper.

I kept thinking it was too bad this wasn't really happening in Reno at one of the downtown casinos. But Port Orford was just fine as Valerie redeemed some of the Monopoly money for some nice gifts. Ken Fortner at Western Auto told me he had quite a successful evening playing the renowned Flipper game and walked away with a few nice gifts. The band Timber Wolf played some country and some rock to a large group of appreciative dancers. They tried to get a line dance going which didn't happen but by next year they'll be plenty of line dancers.

Last week in this paper we had an article about Elvis in Port Orford. Since this isn't the Weekly Exploiter we'll set the record straight. Elvis was played by Port Orford's very own Bill Bailey. Bill was helping out in the grand opening of one of Port Orford's new businesses. Sandy Cockrell has opened Sandy's Consulting Services sharing the same office space with Milton Finch's Custom Jewelry. Bill lent his singing and musical talents to the festivities and we Elvis fans appreciated it.

Halloween is coming up on Sunday of next week and we'll try to have as many "scary" activities as possible in the paper scheduled for that weekend. One of the highlights of Halloween in Port Orford for me is the annual Halloween parade the students at Driftwood Elementary School put on. Last year they walked south along Highway 101 from the school to Battle Rock Park and then crossed the street and walked back to the school north on 101.

Meanwhile I'm in a race against time in what's left of my garden. I've got a couple of pumpkin vines with a total of three small pumpkins growing on them. I guess you could say they're anemic compared to what they grow in Roseburg. The trouble is they're still green with only ten more growing days before Halloween. Now I never heard of a green Jack'O'Lantern. One thing that snuck up on me this year is the sun's sinking position in the sky. A couple of months ago the garden area was getting sun by 9:00am. Now it's shaded until noon. Is that why the house has gotten so cold? Well I'll keep my eye on those three future pumpkin pies. Maybe a sun lamp would work.

Notice of Public Hearing

There will be a hearing in Gold Beach concerning the petition for extended area service by the Gold Beach telephone exchange. The hearing will be held on Thursday evening, October 21, at 7:00pm in Gold Beach at the Docia Sweet Hall, Curry County Fairgrounds.

The purpose of the hearing is to establish if there is a community of interest in the extended service calling area between Gold Beach and Brookings.

The Public Utility Commission of Oregon will conduct the hearing which is open to the public.

Ray Johnson from Sixes has been heavily involved in this process for several years now. It involves the phone rates between the interconnected communities of the south coast. One problem for people living in this part of Oregon is not only the distance between the cities and towns but the long distance phone rates between the different area codes. Put simply it's expensive for both individuals and businesses and affects the way they handle their communications. Ever try calling the county 800 number?

An extended area service exists between Langlois and Bandon.

Huck's Reviews

You might be wondering why I've been so sleepy this past week. Well, while on the prowl for something to soothe an aching heart I discovered the PG section. There are enough good titles in this section alone to keep me entertained for nine lives!

First I watched Romancing the Stone. I was more than ready for a movie where love was entertaining and this filled the bill nicely. Kathleen Turner plays an author who writes romantic adventure tales. She stumbles into an adventure of her own when she tries to save her sister from serious trouble. Michael Douglas plays a reluctant hero who in turn saves her, and romance is kindled. If you like to be entertained - not instructed, this is the movie for you.

Jewel of the Nile - this is the sequel to Romancing the Stone and carries you even further into the affair of a lifetime. Both movies back to back will give you 212 minutes of pure, fast paced entertainment. It won't leave any time to pine over a broken heart.

Since watching the entire James Bond series I haven't had time to write about all the adventures of 007. They are rated PG with one rated PG-13 and will offer you endless lifetimes of entertainment. These movies are purrfect for a cold night by the fire..

More Laws of Life

Choreography is its own reward

Some things are done only for the sake of form. Don't fight it by looking for substance in everything. Do it long enough and you'll find enjoyment in an elephant dance.

He who does the work shapes it

As applied to computers, he who writes the code rules (the Coding rule). In meetings, he who writes the minutes determines the outcome.

The less the knowledge, the more jealously it is preserved

Societies with only a few precious facts make their people memorize them and pledge to faithfully abide by them. In contrast, highly developed disciplines quit worrying about losing knowledge (unless the computer crashes and there is no backup).

Excellence increases demands

Critics gather to spot tinier flaws as work nears perfection. Promptness invites impatience. In correspondence, the faster you answer a letter, the faster your correspondent will answer giving you something with a shorter deadline. This reaches a fever pitch with electronic mail.

Skills diminish professionalism

Engineers who admit to drafting skills are vulnerable to assignment of drafting work, just to help out. Similarly, female professionals should hide any clerical skills lest they be asked to pinch hit for one of the secretaries in the event of illness.

Silence is not acquiescence

Contrary to what you may have heard, silence of those present is not necessarily consent, even the reluctant variety. They simply may sit in stunned silence and figure ways of sabotaging the plan after they regain their composure.

School Board Meeting

Here are the highlights of the regular monthly meeting of the Port Orford-Langlois 2CJ school board held on Tuesday, Oct. 12.

Superintendent Dick Wold and district architect Lon Samuels visited Driftwood Elementary School checking for fire safety and adequate access for the handicapped/disabled. They determined that some fire extinguishers should be replaced/relocated as soon as possible at a cost of about $500. More extensive remodeling will be needed in the attic at an estimated cost of about $11,000. This will be presented to the budget committee for the 1994-95 budget with work to be done during the summer of 1994. Some access changes are needed asap at a cost of $5000 and more should be done next summer.

State Superintendent Norma Paulus replied to a complaint filed with the Dept.

of Ed. by Joyce King and the Committee to Recall Members of 2CJ School Board. In her letter, Ms. Paulus states, "I have reviewed your letters of complaint, and cannot find a basis for the Department to intervene."

Pacific HS Principal, Michael Nickless reports that a new Drama class is being held and that a series of one-act plays are planned for the first quarter. New clubs this year are Choir and Debate. The Pacific HS band won first place at the Bandon Cranberry Festival for the second year in a row.

On Sept. 29th, the Curry County Sheriff drug detection dogs were on campus to test their abilities and to familiarize them with the campus. Both the dogs and the school received an "A" grade for the day. They successfully sniffed out all the drugs planted by the Sheriff and proved the school to be drug-free. Congratulations PHS!

Athletic Director Jim Kistner and Principal Michael Nickless have developed improved minimum academic standards for participation in extra curricular activities. The new standards provide more objectivity and are designed to catch problems at an earlier stage. Even so, they allow participation for students who may be failing one major subject and doing sub-standard work in another. The board will re-consider whether to set higher standards at the workshop to be held October 27.

Mr. Kistner also brought to the board's attention the availability of a used 1986 model 8-station Universal Gym for $2500.

This compares with $4500 and up from other sources. Weight training has become very popular at PHS with 1/3 of the students enrolled and more that have had to be turned away! Their current gym is a 1970 model and needs work. This investment will last for 20-30 years. Although not budgeted for this year, the board agreed to find the money somehow and directed the superintendent to pursue the purchase.

Speaking of money, there are two seats open on the budget committee. Anyone interested should call Valerie Kramer 332-6565 or Marc Farmer 332-6465.

Blanco Middle School Principal Phil Sword reported that they will receive a $2,000 grant from the Curry Soil and Water Conservation District for an outdoor classroom. Science teacher Dan Leighton is developing a curriculum and has students setting up study plots and cleaning trails.

A new playground is under development at Blanco. Don Smith has ripped up the old pavement which will be removed by Jim Kamph. Then the area will be leveled, reseeded, areas paved/prepared for basketball, volleyball, and baseball (complete with backstop) and the area will be fenced on three sides. Thanks to the Blanco Boosters for driving this ambitious project!

The board accepted, with regret, a letter of resignation from Basketball Coach Mark A. Creighton. Curry County Sheriff, Charles L. Denney notified Mark and the school he would not be able to coach this year. No further explanation was offered and the disappointed board directed the superintendent to make further inquiries.

Transportation Supervisor Justin Potter reported on bids for a new bus. The board voted to accept a bid of $52,336 for a 1993 Blue Bird 71 passenger bus. The five-year transportation plan calls for no further bus purchases for the next two years.

School enrollment is slightly below the state Dept. of Ed. projections. We had 514 enrolled on Oct. 4 vs a projection of 528. This translates to about $120,000 difference in funding from the state unless enrollment increases. The shortfall is mostly at the high school level.

With PHS students now participating in Bandon football, the question was raised, "Why can't Bandon students join our soccer program?" Apparently the rules say that students from a smaller school can participate at a larger school, but students from the larger school can't participate in the smaller one. The superintendent will investigate and see if an exception can be made in our case.

SKYWATCHER'S GUIDE

(Prepared by David Nette and Robert Victor thanks to Abrams Planetarium at Michigan State University)

Thursday, October 21 - The moon, approaching First Quarter, is in the south at dusk tonight. Note the moon appears slightly less than half full. By the time the moon rises on Friday afternoon, it will be past First Quarter and therefore slightly more than half full.

Friday, October 22 - An hour after sundown the next three evenings, watch the waxing gibbous moon approach and pass the bright planet Saturn. At dusk tonight the moon, just over half full, is in the SE within the constellation Capricornus. Saturn is far to the moon's lower left.

Saturday, October 23 - Look in the SSE at dusk for the moon and bright Saturn just 7° apart. Look 22° to the lower left of the ringed planet for Fomalhaut. This first-magnitude star is sometimes called "The Solitary One" because it resides in a part of the sky lacking other bright stars.

Sunday, October 24 - At nightfall the moon has passed Saturn and appears in the SSE in the constellation Aquarius. Look for yellowish Saturn 10° to the moon's lower right. Uranus and Neptune now pass each other for the third time this year and will not appear as close again until 2164-65! Use binoculars and a finder chart to locate these faint planets.

Monday, October 25 - Two days ago the Sun entered the astrological sign Scorpio, but against the star background it appears two zodiacal constellations to the west of Scorpius, in Virgo. Over the millennia since the origins of astrology, the Earth's precession, or "wobbling" motion of its rotational axis, has created a widening offset between the astrological signs and the constellations after which they are named.

Tuesday, October 26 - One hour after sundown look very low in NNE to NE for a yellowish first-magnitude star. It is Capella in Auriga. From northern Michigan, Capella is circumpolar and never sets! Circumpolar stars "circle the pole" near Polaris, the North Star, and remain visible throughout the year.

Wednesday, October 27 - An hour after sundown the ringed planet Saturn is well up in the SSE. Since May, Saturn has retrograded, or moved west against the stars. Today Saturn ends this motion 10 N of the 3rd-magnitude star Deneb Algedi, the tail of the Seagoat. Keep watch in coming weeks.

Mamma Outsmarts Seedy Weeds

Mamma, never a procrastinator herself, recently solved a dilemma for a friend who had failed to weed his garden during the spring. Now the poor guy had lots of weeds to pull that had gone to seed and he didn't want to spread those proliferators all over when he pulled the plant out. (At least he had the foresight to realize many of those seeds would just become a weeding problem next spring.)

Mamma got some extra use out of the plastic produce bags she'd saved by popping the bag, coated inside with sticky honey, over the seed head and snapping it off before pulling the weed.

Sales Tax Meeting

There will be a meeting at the Port Orford senior citizen center on Tuesday evening, October 26, concerning the sales tax initiative. Oregonians will go to the polls on Tuesday, November 9, and vote on Measure 1, the proposed 5% sales tax.

Jim Manary, from the Oregon Department of Revenue, will explain Measure 1 and answer your questions. The public is invited to attend this meeting which begins at 7:00pm.

If Patrick Henry thought taxation without representation was bad, he should see how bad it is with representation.

School System Report Card

State School Superintendent Norma Paulus has released her second annual "Oregon Report Card" reporting on the status of our school systems. Here are a few facts from her 100+ page booklet.

Schools spend about 80% of their budget on salaries and benefits

74% of senior level students graduated in 1992 and another 6% finished four years of school but lacked the requirements for graduation. 82% of Oregonians over 25 have a high school diploma compared with only 78.4% nationally.

Home schooling is effective. Of the 4,868 home schooled students tested for 1991-

92, 72% tested at the 50th percentile or above and 22% tested at the 90th percentile or above. Only 5% tested below the 15th percentile. (If you test at the 50th percentile it means that as many public schooled students tested below you as tested above you. At the 90th percentile, 90% of public schoolers tested below you.)

Statewide school enrollment is growing by about 2.57% annually.

In the 1993 reading tests, 11% of 3rd graders, 16% of 5th graders, 18% of 8th graders and 17% of 11th graders did not have acceptable reading skills.

In mathematics unacceptable skill levels were found in 15% of 3rd graders, 21% of 5th graders, 17% of 8th graders, and a whopping 35% of 11th graders!

Many students do not prepare themselves to learn. More than 1/3 of secondary students skip breakfast 3 or more times per week. Nearly half skip lunch twice a week or more. 2/3 sleep 7 hours or less a night and 1/3 of 11th graders work 8 hours or more a week not counting weekends or vacations.

Oregon students rank highly compared to many other states but being the best of the bad is no great honor.
