We're Back!

By Valerie Jean Kramer

"Well, I'm back," said Sam Gamgee at the end of the Lord of the Rings trilogy by J.R.R. Tolkien and I'm happy to say that Evan and I are back after our trip to England, Wales, and Scotland. Our journey may not have been as dangerous and exciting as that of Frodo and his companions, but we thoroughly enjoyed it and hope you will enjoy hearing more about our mother country over the next few weeks.

Although I've read The Hobbit and the Rings trilogy many times, I don't know much about Tolkien or how he came to write the books. After our tour, however, I'm sure that Great Britain had a strong influence on his writing. Looking at the rolling green hills, streams, and mountains, the stone fences, hedgerows, and old buildings, one almost expects to see a hobbit working in the fields or resting under a tree. I wouldn't be surprised to find one popping into a pub for a quick pint of stout. It just looks like hobbit country. Many place names sound like they could be in Middle Earth — places like Dunkeld, Chester, Greta Green, Longtown, or Land's End. (If you want a local taste of Middle Earth, check out the path at the top of Coast Guard Hill. This green tunnel always makes me think of Hobbits.)

We left Port Orford on Wednesday, August 14 and spent the night in Portland to be ready for our 7am flight. On Thursday we had about a 5 hour flight to New York City, a 3 hour layover where we met my parents who flew in from Cleveland then we all enjoyed(?) a 7 hour flight to London. Adding the 8 hour time difference, it was Friday morning when we arrived but my body said it was bedtime.

We had booked ourselves onto Trafalgar Tours "Best of Britain" tour (<http://www.travel.afta.com.au/product/trafalgar/tr009.html>) and they handled all arrangements from the time we left New York until we re-boarded our flight back to New York at the end of our tour.

In the eighteen days we were gone, we traveled through time from the ancient stone ruins of Stonehenge to brand new concrete and steel bridges and just about everything in between.

Here's an example of a typical day from their itinerary: (I'd say this was one of my favorites, but they were all favorites!)

Day 9 Highlands & Skye Excursion

A remarkable scenic day begins with a stop at Culloden Moor to see the site of the famous battle which finally defeated the hopes of a Stuart Monarchy. We drive along the shore of Loch Ness, then "over the sea to Skye" to explore this beautiful isle. More spectacular scenery on our return journey via Lochcarron. Return to Grantown for dinner.

In addition to seeing lots of important and interesting places, our tour guide explained the history of what we were seeing and helped us understand why it was significant. Our tour guide was exceptionally knowledgeable and interesting. She really enhanced the enjoyment and value of our trip.

Besides the official sites, we learned a lot about the country. We learned that Great Britain includes the largest island, Britain, and many surrounding islets. Scotland, Wales, and England are three countries in Great Britain while the United Kingdom includes Great Britain plus North Ireland. Wales and England are somewhat like two states in the US. They use the same money, the same laws, and there are no customs or immigration controls. Wales does have its own identity, however, much like southern California is substantially different from Pine Bluff, Arkansas. They also require all road signs to be printed in both English

Letter To The Editor

Dear Port Orford Chamber of Commerce members,

Due to circumstances beyond my control funds for employing an office manager at the Port Orford Chamber of Commerce and Visitor's Information Center were not distributed this year. I am leaving the Chamber of Commerce on August 31.

I want to thank all of you for supporting the Chamber of Commerce and wish to express how much I have enjoyed working for and with all of you.

During the two years with the Chamber I have increased membership by 28% created and published a yearly calendar of events brochure, created and published a monthly newsletter name the "Chamber Spotlight", designed and implemented a welcome wagon package for newcomers to the area, served on various committees, wrote a marketing grant, and donated a handmade doll to the Chamber so that it may be raffled off for proceeds toward the purchase of a fax machine. Since I first began working for the Chamber in May of 1994, I have donated the use of my personal typewriter, computer and printer to the office.

My working experience with the Port Orford Chamber of Commerce has been gratifying and challenging. You're a wonderful group to work for. Thank you ever so much!

Yours truly,

Jackie Bright

Household Hazardous Waste Collection in Port Orford

Disposal of various household chemicals at a free "Household Waste Collection Event" is scheduled for September 6 from 10:00am to 2:00pm in Port Orford. The event will be located at Highway 101 and West 15th street next to Sentry Market.

The collection event allows persons to safely dispose of a wide range of materials such as auto batteries, antifreeze, paints, pesticides, oven cleaners, and furniture polish. The event is for household hazardous waste only. No industrial or commercial wastes will be accepted. Explosives, radioactive materials and medical wastes are also unacceptable.

If possible, materials being disposed of should be left in their original containers with labels intact. Leaking containers should be placed in thick plastic bags. All materials should be packed in a plastic-lined, sturdy cardboard box to prevent leaks and breakage. Materials should not be mixed together. As an additional safety precaution, the materials should be placed in car trunks or in the back of covered trucks en route to the event.

According to an event spokesperson, "We anticipate a lot of community interest in this event. We all want to keep hazardous products out of our landfills and sewer systems. The collection event will help make area residents aware that such wastes contribute to air, soil and ground-water pollution. It gives everyone an environmentally sound option to pouring these materials down the drain or tossing them in the garbage."

Materials collected at the collection event will be sorted for reuse/recycling (for example, reusable paints, representing much of the collected materials, may be donated to community organizations), or shipped to a regulated hazardous waste treatment, storage and disposal facility.

Health District Restructures

Members of the Curry Health District board approved a plan to restructure the management of the district, including Curry General Hospital and Curry Family Medical clinic, when they met on Wednesday, August 21, in Gold Beach. The plan was recommended by William A. Nickerson, M.D., administrator, with the approval of the two other members of the current management council including R.G. Williams, M.D., chief of medical staff, and Sandie Hannah, R.N., director of clinical services.

Randy Scholten, who is now director of business and finance, will lead the newly expanded five-person management council as district administrator, announced Barbara Stover, board chairman. In addition to the duties Scholten now holds, he will assume direction of general operations and the physical plant.

The council was created by Dr. Nickerson when he was named administrator in October 1995. Since that time, Stover said, patient census has increased markedly in emergency room use, outpatient and short-stay surgeries, and impatient services.

Dr. Williams will remain as chief of staff, but in an expanded role overseeing the medical staff, clinical care and medical affairs. He will maintain a permanent administrative office at the hospital.

Dr. Nickerson will step down from the administrator's spot to return to medical staff consulting and improving medical care delivery, tasks he performed at Curry General Hospital for four years prior to assuming the administrator's position.

Hannah, who has held the position of director of clinical services during the past year, will return to her original duties in clinical education and evaluation. She was hired as a nurse-educator in April 1995.

Both Nickerson and Hannah will remain on the management council.

Millie Bird, R.N., a longtime nurse and business administrator from Coos Bay, will join the management council as its fifth member, taking over Hannah's current position as director of clinical services. Bird will oversee nursing, laboratory, radiology and surgery, beginning in November.

The newly restructured management council will begin its transition now and will become official by January 1, 1997 according to Dr. Nickerson.

Pentium Computers to be $1,200 within 2 years?

Reuters News Service reported Friday, August 30 on information given by Steve Ballmer, Executive Vice President of Microsoft in charge of worldwide sales and support. In part Mr. Ballmer predicts "hardware costs will continue to come down" and that an Intel Pentium-based computer will sell for $1,200 within two years.

What does that tell you about our current low computer prices? Looks like we can't expect to see massive price drops any time soon. Word in the trade press is that RAM (memory) stockpiles are dwindling and prices are expected to begin rising this fall. Most other components are already near their bottom price point. Act now!

The Last Second Ballot

The recent Republican and Democratic political conventions came and went without much excitement. However back in 1952 the Republican convention saw a contested race for that parties nominee for President.

The two leading candidates were General Dwight D. Eisenhower and Senator Robert Taft. Neither could secure the nomination on the first ballot. However, Eisenhower won the nomination on the second ballot. That was the last time one of the two major political parties needed to go to a second ballot to nominate one their candidates.

No wonder the television ratings get lower every four years with threats from the networks not to televise any of the "scripted" proceedings in the future.

Different Perspectives

The older we get, the more we learn that its dangerous to form judgements without making sure we have all the facts. Here is a little story that shows a good example of the dangers of snap judgements.

One day, little Bobby was playing baseball with his friends in his backyard. When dinner-time came around all the friends left, and Bobby decided to play baseball by himself. He readied the bat on his shoulder and threw the ball in the air. When it came down, he swung and missed.

Now having to play everyone's part, he was also the umpire, and when he missed, he shouted out "Strike one!!" At this his mother looked out the window to see what he was doing.

The next time, Bobby threw the ball higher and missed farther. "Strike two!!"

Poetry Evening

Latte Amore' located at 11th and Baltimore by the Bandon Post Office is continuing the tradition of being a rendezvous of art, artists, and art aficionados. Prose or poetic expression to be shared on Saturday, September 14 at 7:00pm. Create, participate and enjoy!

he shouted loudly. At this his mother began to worry ... "My son can't even hit a ball he threw to himself!"

When little Bobby threw the ball up a third time, he threw it as high as he could, and when it came down, his mother could have sworn he missed by a mile. The mother then began to worry about her son's vision. "Maybe he needs glasses, and that's why he kept missing," she resolved.

As Bobby was walking to the door, his mother heard him saying to himself "Wow! What a pitcher!!"

Two things are bad for the heart--running upstairs and running down people.

To avoid criticism say nothing, do nothing, and be nothing.

Most of today's movies should be pitied, rather than censored.

A critic is man who knows the way, but can't drive the car.

Well - guess I'll start off with the ice cream social - really nice. Lots of people - not as many kids as I expected but a good turn out of adults. Every one had a nice time, cake, ice cream and cookies. I've already been asked when ya gonna do it again? Those who made it so nice were: Kay Neal, Thelma Lagace, Pauline Lenox, Clair Stahl, and Jim Galford serving the ice cream. I got white ice cream with little chocolate dots.

August 19 was pinochle - Ladies High Venetta Marstal, Ladies Low Donna Olson - Men's High E. David Kline, Men's Low - Henry Kron. September 2 Ladies High - Betty Keeler and Ladies Low Katriena Montgomery. Men's High Clair Stahl Men's Low Mickey Harper.

Those working were Greta Carver, Kay Neal, Thelma Lagace, June Dennison set up the dining room and Leo Welch did the dishes.

August 24 - luncheon - really good food - turkey and all the trimmings, someone made cranberry - you know sauce - really tasty. Those who made this so special - were Norma Ellis, Thelma Lagace, Kay Neal, Peigi Stahl, and Clair Stahl, and what's his name. Nice lunch. There was no rummage sale because of the street being black topped - sorry. They had one on Saturday the 31st. Same time as the pot luck.

August 28 was the membership meeting and lunch at the Port & Starboard.

Birthdays for September: Olie Edland 5, Leo Welch 9, Charles Forsyth 13, Robert Viles 15, Hazel Klima 20, Dottie Clothier 25, Mildred North 25, Virena Houghlum 26, Berna Olener 29. Those doing the birthday party were: Henry Kron, Peigi Stahl, Thelma Lagacy, Betty Harper, Jim Galford, Clair Stahl.

Did you notice how nice the center looks? When I went down the other day there was a new man painting - at least I thought he was new. I asked his name - thought he said Doug. Someone else said Dan - any way I'll call him Mr. Lardell. He was doing his part - nice.

The bus driver for September will be Kay Neal.

The breakfast and rummage sale is September 8.

Oh, yes the board meeting Sept 11 at 2pm. This is long - hope I got everything of interest in. Shorter next week - OK?

Hearing Canceled

A hearing scheduled for September 5 in North Bend regarding closure of nearly two miles of North Spit area of the Coos River to motor vehicles has been canceled by the Oregon Parks and Recreation Department.

Department officials said the meeting was canceled because staff members have requested more information from the Bureau of Land Management (BLM) that will provide a detailed analysis of the reasons for the closure request and present alternatives to closure.

The meeting was scheduled to begin at 7:00pm in the North Bend Library.

The BLM had requested closure of approximately two miles of beach extending southward from the U.S. Forest Service's Dunes National Recreation Area. The two-mile section currently is open to vehicles year-round.

and Welsh. Scotland is more independent and has its own currency (three of them — all completely interchangeable with English money), its own legal system and its own education system. Like Wales, there are no border checks, customs, or immigration controls. This has not always been the case and much of the history we learned has to do with the struggles between these three countries as they learned to get along.

Hopefully by next week we'll have our notes in order and can begin to tell more about what we saw. Hope you like it.
