Serving Port Orford since 1990

Stormy Weather By Evan Kramer

Valerie and I took another trip and drove into the eye of the big storm on the Sunday before New Year's. Driving south from Port Orford along Highway 101 in howling winds and driving rain wasn't a lot of fun. We got to Brookings and heard on the radio that Highway 199 to Grants Pass was closed at Patrick's Creek by a 25,000 cubic yard slide. We didn't see any sunshine until we hit Los Angeles a day and a half later. The forecast in L.A. was for rain, possibly on New Year's Day. However, it hasn't rained on the New Year's Day Tournament of Roses Parade in Pasadena since 1955. Therefore following in that tradition once again the clouds parted and the sun came out for the nation's biggest and most popular parade.

Our timing was just right, weather-wise. We arrived in Southern California on the heels of the storm and missed the road closures on Highway 101 and 5 among other roadways. Going back on Saturday after New Year's we saw some of the after effects of the storm on Highway 5 in the Sacramento area where many fields were under water and some access roads and off-ramps submerged. Highway 101 north of Ukiah had problems but other than a couple of caravans and one major detour it was passable.

Our first stay was with Bob & Bernie Mateer in Los Angeles. Valerie met Bob when he was the librarian for the Pasadena IBM Users Group and they have been swapping computer advice ever since. Bob is just upgrading to Windows 95 and the Internet so Valerie had lots to show him.

Los Angeles has more than one Disneyland-type attraction. For Valerie, it was Fry's Electronics - a consumer electronics fantasy-land if there ever was one. The building is huge - about 100,000 square feet or about 25 times the size of the Downtown Fun Zone building (including Sisters Grocery and the Christian Science Reading Room!) It had a crashed flying saucer sticking out of the wall forming an awning over the door. Inside the mother ship covered a third of the ceiling. Jeeps melted with lasers, infantrymen with rifles and aliens in space suits that looked like they'd escaped from the movie "Mars Attacks!" were scattered about the aisles. (Other stores have other themes such as "Alice in Wonderland" and "South Seas") While it was fun to browse and pounce on a few bargains, Valerie found the prices ranged from below her wholesale cost to higher than the Fun Zone's normal retail prices. Caveat Emptor.

After leaving the Mateers, we visited our friends Ron and Marie Cohen in Escondido. I had told Ron before I even got down there I wanted to go to Belmont Park in the Mission Bay part of San Diego and ride the refurbished and reopened Giant Dipper Roller Coaster. Last time I saw the coaster it was not in working order. The coaster is an old wooden coaster built in 1925. It was reopened in 1990. Ron and I left Valerie with the camera and boarded the coaster for a fast one minute and forty five second ride. Not being as young as I used to be the rush down the first climb gave me a headache. Just can't take the wild curves like I used to.

The people of San Diego and coaster enthusiasts around the world are fortunate that their coaster didn't meet the fate of so many others on the west coast like the great Cyclone Racer at the Long Beach Pike, Sea Serpent at Pacific Ocean Park in Santa Monica and Big Dipper at Playland at the Beach in San Francisco, which were all demolished before coasters came back into their current state of appreciation. The only other major survivor on the west coast is the Giant Dipper roller coaster at the Santa Cruz boardwalk amusement park which gets more popular every year.

Senior News By Mary Yoder

Hello - here it is 1997 Guess you all know the dance didn't work out. The music came all the way from Brookings to find the center with no electricity so no lights and no heat. We will make up for it next dance - OK?

The birthday party January 5th was real nice Peigi Stahl made delicious cake - but no chocolate ice cream. The ice cream was good but my favorite is chocolate. Other helpers were Lorraine Haas, and Bobbette Kron. One name was left off the birthday list - Les Manning - sorry. It is his 90th birthday.

January 6 was pinochle. Was I glad I went - nice turn out. Katernia Montgomery came and brought with her - goodies - pop corn, candy, cookies and sparkling apple cider. I hope she comes every time. High for the ladies Lucille Tubbs - low Betty Keeler. High for men Mickey Harper low Clair Stahl.

Now what's coming up - January 11th - Luncheon at 11:30am and Rummage sale 8 till 1:30pm. Then January 12 is the breakfast from 8am till 2pm and also a Rummage sale from 8am till 2pm.

The other day after the storm I stopped at the Center - here was Leo Welch checking the equipment and other things. Isn't that nice - he is so dependable. In the office was Beth Newkirk. In the afternoon Kay Neal was in charge.

Don't count the years now gone before. Just look ahead, look through life's door, And count God's blessings still in store!

That's it for today.

Langlois Public Library

Picture the following conversation between a student and a Librarian on one of the regular weekly school visits to our Library.

“So Sheryl, how many books does Langlois Library have anyway?”

“How many would you guess?”

“Oh, well, at least 100. There’s a lot in here!”

“I have an idea; let’s have everyone in your class make a guess and whoever is closest will win a prize.”

“Yeah, that sounds good, but what’s the prize?”

Thanks go to Mr. Mitchell and his class of 3rd and 4th graders at Blanco for raising this question and participating in the quest for knowledge.

Congratulations to: Ciara Meeks who was awarded with: I Spy School Days: a Book of Picture Riddles, by Wick and Marzollo, for being closest in guessing the number of books housed in Langlois Library. (The Library currently has approximately 11,000 books. Periodicals and videos are not included in this number.)

Letter to the Editor,

After having read a letter or two from people from other towns complaining about the “speed trap” in Port Orford I feel the need to defend our Police Dept.

I am proud to live in a town where drivers have to obey the law as they drive through it. This was not always the case and I believe it is a major improvement.

Letter to the Editor,

This is written in response to the letters about Port Orford being a 'speed trap'. A speed trap implies a place where there are no clearly marked speed limit signs. Port Orford has clearly marked signs at each end of town and at intervals in between. The signs read Speed Limit 30 mph. It is 30 mph because people live, go to school and work here and they need to be able to safely cross the street.

You are upset because you were caught exceeding the speed limit. You broke the law and can and should be stopped and ticketed. Perhaps you are "special" and can break the law? Sounds like sour grapes.

Jane Bolling

PS I wish Langlois was a "speed trap".

On a recent walk on the beach I filled two large garbage bags with trash washed up on shore from our recent storms. There is so much more that needs to be picked up. Maybe some folks in the community would like to tuck a plastic grocery bag in their pocket and take a short walk on our beautiful Battle Rock beach...picking up garbage as they go. This looks like a job for community involvement!

Whale of A Wine Festival

Gold Beach holds its ninth annual "Whale of a Wine Festival" scheduled for January 10, 11, 12 in Docia Sweet Hall at the Curry County Fairgrounds. This three day celebration features; Oregon vintages, specialty vendors, fine food, music, informative seminars and a collective display of works from local artisans.

Friday night's premier showing includes an auction of selected wine and art. Doors are open from 6pm to 9pm. Admission for this evening is $10. Saturday's activities begin at noon and continue until 8pm, and Sunday, hours are noon through 5pm. Tickets for these days are $6. Your admittance fee includes a collectible souvenir wine glass.

Musical performances, whale watching and other seminars will be held intermittently throughout the event. Final details are still in the works, so check your program upon arrival. On Sunday, a big-screen TV will be set up for football fans to enjoy the game while sipping a fine wine and munching tasty tid-bits.

The Whale of a Wine Festival coordinated in part, within the peak winter migration of grey whales along this spectacular coastline. Those who take the time to look, will be almost certain to see at least one fo the 21,000 whales passing by. One of the best viewpoints is located 5.5 miles south of Gold Beach, at Cape Sebastian. Here, an unobstructed view is offered high above crashing surf. Watch for giant tail flukes as a whale dives, or see one blow when it surfaces. A lucky few will witness the splendor of a partial or full breach.

Come to Gold Beach and enjoy sampling the offerings of twelve Oregon wineries, taste local cuisine and chat with local artists about their efforts. For more information on whale watching or the Whale of a Wine Festival, please call the Gold Beach Chamber of Commerce 800-525-2334 or (541) 247-7526.

Letter to the Editor,

To the wonderful people of Port Orford!! Our family would like to thank you all for welcoming us into your homes and businesses like we have always lived here. We have made many friends since our move here just over a year ago. Having lived in a small town before, I was a little reluctant, but you have shown us a real sense of community and caring. This is what we feel a small town should feel like. You have helped us through some rough spots and have been with us to celebrate the good times too.

On Christmas Eve our P.O. Box contained an envelope addressed to Monte and I but with no return name or address. It had been post marked here in town. Inside was quite a surprise!! This anonymous gift made quite a difference in our family's Christmas in many ways. It showed an incredible sense of Christmas Spirit and helped confirm our belief in the goodness of people.

Our family wants to thank this anonymous gift giver with all our hearts. You know who you are so give yourself a big hug from the entire Harrison Family!!!

With Love,

Monte, Colleen, Seth, Ian, Matt & Mitch

Letter to the Editor

I would like to respond to a recent letter concerning Port Orford's reputation as a "speed trap." I do not know if the previous letter was written "tongue-in-check" or if the gentleman was an angry offender who was caught speeding by the local law enforcement. I do know that it was very difficult to cross the highway either as a pedestrian or in another vehicle before the speed laws were enforced, especially in the summer months when both vehicle and pedestrian traffic is heavy.

There are very distinct signs that are flagged and visible telling motorists what the speed is. The changes in speed are allowed for in a reasonable distance first changing to 45mph then to 30mph. Most officers do not stop a vehicle unless it is going at least 10mph over the speed limit. I do not believe that it is too much to ask those who drive through our town to do so at a reasonable speed. You may just be trying to pass through but I live here and use this street in my daily commuting. I for one have found getting around Port Orford much more pleasant since the Port Orford police and others have been enforcing the speed laws.

Finally I would like to thank the Port Orford police department for doing such a fine job.

Port Orford Library By Shirley Nelson

Tuula Rebhahn, fifth grade student at Driftwood Elementary School, won our recent contest, "Digging for Treasure." She had to answer twenty questions and write one report, based on classics of children's literature. For all those elementary and secondary students who didn't enter the contest, those classics are still waiting for you at Port Orford Library, along with new books arriving all the time.

Among new books are two about famous women who lived at about the same time, both born to wealth and privilege. Anastasia's Album is a beautiful collection of photographs and excerpts from letters. These are tied together with a well written narrative telling of the childhood of the four daughters and son of Tsar Nicholas II of Russia. Anastasia, the youngest of the girls, was the self appointed chronicler of family events until her death at age 17. Eleanor tells of the same period in the life of Eleanor Roosevelt, the shy, awkward girl who became one of the most admired and influential women of all time. This book is illustrated with carefully composed drawings by the author, Barbara Cooney.

Fans of Graeme Base (Eleventh Hour, Sign of the Seahorse) will enjoy The Discovery of Dragons. The author illustrator describes twelve dragons from three different parts of the world and the people who discovered them. Lots of fun to read. Adults will appreciate these books, too; the first two for their history and the last for its humor.

Stormy Weather

1996 Was All Wet

In Port Orford winds of up to 139 miles per hour hit Cape Blanco on New Year's Eve. Port Orford and surrounding areas were hit with numerous power outages. Damage included roofs torn off homes and Lightin' Bugs fixtures blown down. Through it all the good people at Coos Curry Electric were out in the worst of the weather working to restore electrical service. Hats off to you folks!

We have various rainfall totals for last year. DeBoyd Smith who lives up Sixes River Road reported 149 inches of rain at his place in 1996, including 38 inches of rain in December. Gary Suzac gave us a few rain statistics collected at the Elk River Fish Hatchery. The hatchery recorded 172.4 inches of rain in 1996! This is the highest total at the Hatchery since they began keeping records in 1970. Their amount for December was 35.19 inches which was a lot but not a new record. The high for the month of December belongs to December, 1981 when 42 inches of rain was recorded. The official survey at the hatchery is recorded with a NAOA gauge (National Atmospheric and Oceanic Administration). Keith Rowling brought in the weekly Port Orford weather statistics and the city recorded a total of 106.95 inches of rain in 1996.

Port Orford Pharmacy Closing

The New Year is beginning on a sad note in Port Orford. The Port Orford Pharmacy (pharmacy department) will be closing on January 10. The rest of the store will be open for a while longer but will also close. Jeanne Malasky told me they will be holding a sale on the remaining merchandise starting sometime next week. I'm really going to miss that place. Since Valerie and I moved here six and a half years ago it has been the place we have gotten our prescriptions conveniently filled, bought greeting cards and gifts as well as had our film developed. I can't
