Water Utility Fund Bankrupt By Evan Kramer

The City of Port Orford has a "water utility fund." It pays for the operation and maintenance of Port Orford's water system. Turn on the tap and get pure, clean, tasty water and you know the water system is doing its job. Unfortunately, the fund is not doing its job. City Recorder Norma House said the water utility fund was overextended to the tune of $7,147. She referred to the fund as bankrupt. Decreased water usage, payroll and supply costs were given as reasons.

At a special meeting on April 29, the Port Orford City Council unanimously approved Resolution 97-05, which states, "A resolution approving a short term interfund loan from the state tax street fund to the water utility fund. Be it hereby resolved by the Common Council of Port Orford as follows: Whereas, the Water Utility Fund is now showing a deficit balance it is hereby deemed necessary to execute a short term interfund loan from the State Tax Street Fund. This interfund loan will bear no interest rate and will be budgeted for in the ensuing 1997-98 fiscal year."

In other words, the city will borrow $20,000 from the state street fund and will pay back the interest-free loan sometime during the 1997-98 fiscal year, which begins on July 1, 1997. [I suppose there are good sound reasons for it, but doesn't it sound like a typical government deal - you're seven grand short so you borrow 20 grand to cover it? - Valerie] That gets the city past the current crisis but doesn't solve the problem. You won't be surprised to learn that water use rate increases were hinted at in the meeting. Another idea considered was to bill monthly instead of every other month. Councilor Ralph Donaldson mentioned to me his idea of billing separately for sewage and water, which are now billed jointly.

Meanwhile, H.G.E. Engineering of Coos Bay continues to work on finding grant funding for the Water System Master Improvement Plan which is a separate project unrelated to the water utility fund. H.G.E. is due to report on the grant funding sometime this month.

Gosvener Released Early

In last week's paper I wrote about the new doctor at the Curry Family Medical Clinic. I also referred to Physician Assistant Philip Gosvener as having resigned from the clinic. Phil talked with me and wanted to set the record straight on that issue. He had submitted a letter of resignation to the Health District on March 18 with his last day of work to be May 27. This date was agreed upon between Gosvener and Hospital Administrator Randy Scholten. However, Dr. Reg Williams released Gosvener from his job early at Curry Family on April 24.

Moving Day at #10 Downing

I was impressed reading about the landslide victory of the British Labor Party over the Conservatives in the papers last Friday. What impressed me most was not the winning victory of the Labor Party and election of new Prime Minister Tony Blair. A few things jumped off the page at me. The Oregonian article referred to the six-week campaign as the longest in Britain since 1918. Compare that to what has happened to our Presidential and congressional elections. They never end. Vice-President Al Gore is already running for his party's nomination for President. The convention is still well over three years away.

Another notable way the British operate is the speed of the transition between ruling political parties and Prime ministers. The election was held on Thursday and Blair took office the next day. We

NCFCC Meets

Recently the board, staff and partners of North Curry Families' and Children's Center met in Langlois at the beautiful Marsh Haven Farm on Floras Lake Loop. The 115-year-old Bed and Breakfast homestead owned by proprietors Eileen Mulligan and Mike Murphy, overlooks a beaver-made marsh. Coastal fields, forest, and organic berry and row crops surround it. It provided the perfect setting for the six-hour work session that was facilitated by Jeff Milligan, a consultant from Salem. The group discussed the needs of North Curry residents and the changes in the delivery of services from the state of Oregon in relation to the projects managed by NCFCC.

NCFCC helps families be safe, healthy and self-sufficient involved members of our community. We manage the North Curry Service Center (in the blue building), which is a friendly place with knowledgeable staff who can guide you to the right person to address a particular need—everything from childcare to flu shots to food stamps. And we sponsor projects that enrich family and community life, such as the Youth Center, the community calendar and the Summer Arts and Recreation Program.

NCFCC is committed to the vision that all children grow up healthy, educated, and prepared for the future. We are involved in advocating for needed services for our residents. We facilitate the start-up of new programs and inform the community of services available. We develop and supervise healthy activities for our youth. We work with local, county, and state organizations to improve the access to services and funds for our residents, and help provide parents with skills to be effective parents.

This planning session and other efforts by the group to develop a long range funding and sustainability plan for NCFCC were funded by a grant from the Van Evera and

Racing to the Future By Bobby Litterell

Recently a meeting of seven of the “veteran” Fishbox drivers and builders was hosted at Hoyt and Bobby Jean Litterell’s home. Newcomers attending were Ed Dowdy and Kirk Johnson, as they too would like to join in on some of the fun. How about you? You want to build a Fishbox Racer? Only about 8 weeks left before the 4th of July races at 2pm on bumpy old 11th Street.

The “safe racers” with the “fast wheels” will be coming back this year, 3 from Roseburg, 2 from Elk River, 3 maybe 4 from Sixes, and a new one from Coos Bay. None from Port Orford.

There will be no “Generic Racers” for free rides like in past years. So if you want to Race to the Future you will need your own racer. Last year all of the “Generic Racers” were given away to kids so that they could make them more safe and have their own racer – only “one racer” returned on race day.

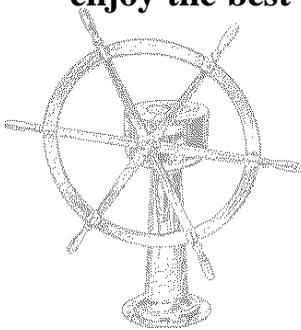

Why not be among the first to build a “Real Fishbox Racer” for the 4th of July Parade and Races? A new category will be tried for this year – the “Real Fishbox Racer” category. Let us see if we can build a low cost racer and still make it safe. So far three of the Big Boys are going to build one each and race them. They are Hoyt Litterell, Ed Dowdy and Charlie Roberts.

Their rules for building the “Real Fishbox Racer” are as follows: Using lawnmower type wheels – 12 inches or smaller, that means (unmodified, Mr. Roberts). The Fishbox part will be 2 feet wide, 4 feet long and the 4 sides will be 11 ½ inches or higher. No rope steering, as it can break. Speaking of break – Brakes are required and must stop evenly. Don’t forget to add a hook for towing, so you can get pulled back up the hill to race again. The overall length will be 8 feet or less, and overall width will be 3 feet or less, so that it will fit in the starting gate.

Okay kids, here is a thought – maybe there are some old boards around to build a box with – maybe there is a book at the library that will help – maybe some stories in town might sell wheels – maybe your Dad, Mom, Uncle, Aunt, or Grandpa can help you – maybe some one will help sponsor you, if you show that you are really going to build a Fishbox Racer.

Meanwhile, this old kid has got to quit talking and start building his “New Fishbox Racer” – I love to go down that bumpy old 11th Street on the 4th of July!

Services for Ella Hildebrand

Funeral services for Ella Biescke Hildebrand of Langlois will be held on Friday, May 9, 2:00pm, at the Amling/Schroeder Bandon Chapel. Pastor Rick House of Langlois Community Church will preside. She was born on December 8, 1903 and died on May 4, 1997.

She was born to parents, Frank and Luella Biescke and came to Oregon with her family at an early age in 1908. She settled with her family in 1908 at Prosper on the Coquille River. She was schooled and raised in the Bandon area and was a graduate of Bandon High School. She was united in marriage to her husband, Robert L. Hildebrand at Coquille on February 4, 1922. He preceded her in death on August 2, 1991. After she married she and her husband moved to their ranch on Langlois Mountain Road in Langlois. She and her husband owned and operated the family ranch on Langlois Mountain Road for many years before moving to Langlois in 1979. She has lived in Bandon area for the past several years. She was a member of the Langlois Lioness Club.

Memorial contributions can be sent to Langlois Lion’s Club, PO Box 193, Langlois, OR 97450.

The volunteers working May 1st were: Kay Neal, Bessie Laursen, Betty Harper, Glorene Godfrey, Clair Stahl, and June Dennison doing the set up in the dining room.

Then on May 4 the birthday party – nice cake and my kind of ice cream – chocolate – some other kinds too., These are the volunteers who did it so nice: Thelma Lagace, Kay Neal and Lorraine Hass, Clair Stahl, and Dutch Heinauer doing dishes and clean up. Like always we sang happy birthday to the birthday people.

May 5 – pinochle – Ladies High Dorothy Spencer and low Ruth Newkirk. Would you believe there was only one man. Just think all those ladies and just E.J. Drew – he was high and low – Wow. May 10th – luncheon 11:30am and rummage sale from 8am till 1:30pm. Don't know what's on the menu but bet it will be good. May 11 – as I said before no breakfast – It's Mother's Day – all you mothers have a great day. May 14 is the Wednesday board meeting at 1pm.

Just got to put this in – May 31st is the 5th Saturday of the month so there will be a potluck – remember my favorite dish? Well, do your best - I'll bring one too.

Letter to the Editor,

During last week, our City Council had two special meetings. The notification of these meetings was posted as it should be, and the newspapers were notified as required. The thing that happened was, the notice was given on Monday for a meeting on Tuesday evening and Wednesday for a meeting on Thursday evening. In each instance the papers were unable to get it out for public notice, because both local papers come out on Wednesday. The question comes up, was this done to reduce the number of citizens that would receive notification therefore be present, effectively nullifying the twenty-four notification law?

Evidently the council felt that items that arose couldn't be held until the next regularly scheduled council meeting.

Tuesday, the meeting was called because the water fund ran out of money, and no body knew about the situation the prior week.

Thursday, the agenda stated that a procedure on hiring was to be discussed, instead it seems that the city manager was passed unanimously at the April 1997 Council Meeting, and needed clarification.

tion. When does clarification of a motion become a procedure?

At the meeting I asked why this item could not be held until the next regularly scheduled council meeting, and never received an answer.

We need to know when these meetings are called so that the citizens of Port Orford know what is going on with their city.

Do You Have A Time Bomb? by Valerie Jean Kramer

"There may be a ticking time-bomb in millions of Pentium motherboards." This startling statement was the lead in a recent story in the trade journal, Electronic Engineering Times.

The problem, it seems, is that many low-cost and no-name brands of motherboards do not have enough good quality capacitors to properly reduce voltage spikes at the CPU. This can lead to unexpected failures, locked up systems, and trashed data.

Other problems mentioned in the article include inadequate heat sinking and cheap fiberglass motherboards with thin traces. As computers have gotten faster and more powerful, it has become more difficult and expensive to design and manufacture reliable systems. For example, a top quality motherboard might use several hundred tantalum capacitors costing 29¢ each! Clearly there is a lot of temptation to cut back, "just a little" and pocket the savings.

Another way cheaper boards are made is to use less expensive electrolytic capacitors. They work fine when they are new but will dry out over time and problems will begin after your warranty has run out.

To make matters more interesting, Intel is investigating allegations that there is a bug in their Pentium Pro CPU chips. Apparently this is a more obscure problem than the mathematical errors that plagued them a couple of years ago. This time they are addressing the issue forthrightly and promising to stand behind their product.

Those of you who have read my former columns know that I'm convinced anyone who does not have a GOOD surge suppressor (at least) on their computer is definitely sitting on a time bomb - one with a short fuse! According to the National Power Laboratory, we can expect about 7,000 power problems each year in this region - almost 20 problems a day! You won't see most of these. They don't make the lights flicker or cause an immediate failure. Rather they act like, "electronic rust." They eat away at vital semiconductors leading to ultimate failure somewhere down the road. I highly recommend the TrippLite Isobar series of surge protectors as being the best I've studied. If your data is at all valuable to you, however, you may want to go a step further (as I have) and protect your equipment with a Best Power UPS which will keep your computer running (and your data safe) even if the power goes out. (at least long enough to safely save your data and shut the computer off.) An inexpensive model can be had for as little as $129.00. I have one left of the more expensive, and unfortunately discontinued, model LI660V which includes a digital voltmeter to watch the power line voltage. So far we've found three sites with voltages off by as much as 14 volts!

North Curry Arts and Recreation

North Curry Families' and Children's Center (NCFCC) was commissioned to develop a pilot arts and recreation program focusing on children and youth. The program will begin this summer and hopefully be developed into a year round program in the future.

This program, North Curry Arts and Recreation, will run for two weeks from 9am to 2pm, July 7-11 and July 14-18. Designed for 7-14 year olds, this day camp will be staffed by trained Recreation Leaders and will include Instruction in arts, crafts, sports, nature study, exploration, tutoring, hiking and more. The program will be limited to 50 children and youth to ensure optimal staff to camper ratio. Registration forms will be available at the North Curry Service Center.

NCFCC is still accepting project applications from anyone interested in sharing a vocation, skill, craft, or hobby with the campers (we are open to lots of ideas ranging from paper making to fishing to tide pooling, travel slide show, etc.) Please pick up an application from North Curry Service Center – the deadline is May 23.

NCFCC would like to publicly acknowledge the generous donation of healthy snacks provided by Al Luis of Sentry for the students who attended ABRACA-DABRA! April Art. Thank you, Al, for helping to make the student art day extra special for the children and youth of our community.

Hughes House

Just one year away from its hundredth anniversary, Historic Hughes House (1898) opened a new season to public tours Thursday May 1. Hours up to September 30 will be 10am to 4pm Thursday through Monday. Sunday's opening time is 12 noon.

Many historically accurate furniture groups have been added to several rooms since last season under the leadership and knowledge of Barry Martinson, president, Friends of Cape Blanco, the local group responsible for the tours and displays in the house. Oregon State Parks work closely with the friends.

A spectacular new quilt donated by Dot Barnes of Quilter's Corner in Port Orford will be on display as this season's raffle item. Tickets are $1 each or six for $5. The Irish China design is in green and white.

Sales items available for purchase have more than doubled due to use of an enlarged display area. Books, pictures, post cards and children's items related to the period are available plus a bigger inventory of lighthouse items. Proceeds of sales, raffle and donations are all used to improve the house and its displays.

Volunteers interested in helping with hosting, research, sales or children's activities should contact Milt Nelson, sales manager at 332-9002.

The Sylvesters

Jim and Holly Sylvester have been making music together for almost 20 years, and have performed over the years with a variety of musical bands ranging from big rock to country rock. They will be performing for one night only at The Barn Community Center in Bandon on Saturday, May 10 at 8:00pm. Tickets are $7.00 at the door. This concert will showcase original compositions by the multi-talented duo. "In the past we've always performed other people's music," says Jim, "and it was great. Now we're taking that scary next step and performing our own music."

Their music has been described as "heart music", "a unique blend of voices". "Feel good music", and "great fun!" Holly was recently awarded first place in the Amadeus Choir's annual song-writing competition in Toronto for a Christmas carol she wrote and arranged. The Sylvesters are also currently semi-finalists in the National Library of Poetry's annual contest, pending final judging in June. Their entry is entitled "Let Me Be A Tree."

Jim and Holly will soon celebrate the release of their first album. They reside in Bandon with their two sons. Jim teaches at Ocean Crest Elementary School and Holly teaches piano and directs music for Unity of Bandon. For more information call OCMA (541) 267-0938.

Community Volunteers

The Curry County Health Department would like to thank the parents, businesses, and community volunteers that helped make this year's immunization campaign a success. During the six free immunization clinics, health department staff was able to immunize 97 Curry County children, making this a larger success than our three previous campaigns. Together, with the efforts of 34 other Oregon counties, nearly 6,000 children were given free shots and offered protection against ten serious diseases that can cause blindness, deafness, paralysis, brain damage, and even death.

Elliot the Elephant visited Gold Beach and Brookings, making appearances in various classrooms and on the playground at Riley Creek School, Head Start, and several local day care centers. On Saturday, he greeted young shoppers at Fred Meyer and brought smiles to teary-eyed children at various free clinics. Throughout the week, parents registered their children for prize drawings, which were awarded to children who received a shot at a free clinic or showed their up to date immunization record.

We would like to thank the many volunteers that contributed time and resources to make this effort a success.

Letter to the Editor,

On behalf of the Pacific High School Booster Club I would like to thank the Pacific High School Alumni Basketball players who volunteered their time to help us raise funds for our High School Track. With their help we took in over $500 which has been placed in a High School track and field account. Our three year goal is to raise the funds necessary to repair our High School track, and complete some needed repairs on the field. The Alumni Basketball game on April 25 at Pacific High School ended in a score of Panthers 82, Pirates 79. We would like to thank Mike Brown, Wayne Everest, Pete Legg, Jack Tucker, Grady Williams, Shon Cook, Carl Foster, Ray Pretti, and David Alexander. We would also like to thank Lee Pestana for coaching the team, and donating $100 for a special event at half time, and everyone who helped with the event, or showed up in support. Volunteerism is the corner stone to keeping our community healthy and is exemplified by these fine community members who took the time out of their busy sched-

YES

By Lorelei Kunz

The YES (Youth Empowered by Seniors) project is getting ready for the 97-98 school year. There is a child in our community who needs a special friend, to spend one hour a week on the school campus in you city. This child will not realize right away the leading role I ask you to play. But soon they will know the privilege of having a special friend like you.

Any responsible adult can become a mentor. Remember that children are our future. Treat them well and show them the way.

The YES project is kicking off a new project called SMART (start making a reader today). The program will provide a volunteer to go into the schools and work with a child who is having a difficult time with reading.

Please call the RSVP office 247-2422 for more info on this rewarding program.

More Retirement Assets

One asset we can probably rely on but should not expect to provide enough income is Social Security. With all the controversy and legislative changes surrounding Social Security staying informed is essential in retirement planning. Other assets are; a business that can be sold and the profits invested to provide a stream of income, or continue the business and hire the work done. Cash Value Life Insurance can provide some, if not all, of your retirement needs. These are just some of the assets that can be used to fund retirement. Tax advantages of saving toward retirement combined with good investments and a little planning can provide a secure and satisfactory retirement. Next week: Why Stocks?

Early Degree for Bradbury

Zoë Bradbury, a former member of Pacific High School's class of 1997, will be receiving an Associates of the Arts degree this May from Simons Rock College in Massachusetts. The school, a four year college of Liberal Arts and Sciences, was founded especially to meet the needs of younger scholars.

Bradbury, like the rest of their student body, entered college early after completing the tenth grade. She was selected through the college's national talent search for highly motivated students and was granted a full merit scholarship for two years enabling her to meet the requirements for an AA degree. After completing a rigorous academic program, she will be graduating on the dean's list with the intent to transfer to a larger college to complete her BA.

Water Utility Fund Bankrupt Continued from Front Cover

give our Presidents two and a half months after they are defeated to pack their clothing and other personal effects, hire a moving van and depart the premises. The Blair family was scheduled to move into the Prime Minister's residence at #10 Downing the day after the election. However, a news report on National Public Radio said that Blair, his wife and three children would move into the larger quarters at #11 Downing. One big difference between American and Britain is in Britain they have the royal family. Here we have no kings or queens but we do have presidential inaugurations, which can be compared to the coronation of English kings and queens. Anyway, how about our politicians trying a six-week long campaign every two years and taking office within a week or two of getting elected. Sounds about as likely as campaign finance reform.

Democrat of the Year

Curry County Democrats held their annual Jefferson Jackson Dinner, April 26 in Docia Sweet Hall at the Curry County Fairgrounds. The dinner, prepared by Michael Sipes and organized by the Jefferson Jackson Dinner Committee of the Curry County Democratic Central Committee, was well attended by enthusiastic young Democrats as well as established Curry County party members.

The evening began with silent auction bidding on many desirable items donated by local artists, businesses and private citizens from Coos and Curry counties. Proceeds from the auction will be used to support local candidates in future elections.

Martha Weaver-Britell introduced the first speaker, Marc Abrams, chair of the Democratic Party of Oregon. Marc shared his vision for the future of Oregon. Marc pointed to the fact that the Republicans like to talk about "family values" and how it is important to protect families from the ideas and beliefs that they don't subscribe to. Democrats, on the other hand, believe strongly in "family values", the difference being that Democrats believe "we are all family" without regard to financial status, race, religious belief and differences of opinion, we are all in this together and need to work together for the benefit of all.

Marc followed by an introduction to Curry County's Democrat of the Year, Betty Crooks. Betty was visibly surprised by the announcement, but spoke eloquently about what being a Democrat meant to her. "I am proud to be a liberal," Crooks said, "because I believe you are a liberal to the degree that you want for others what you want for yourself."

Crooks was born in Laurel, Mississippi and received her BA in Political Science from UC Berkeley. During WWII Betty lived in Washington DC, worked in several government departments and met her husband Bill. The couple moved to Corvallis while Bill was a professor at OSU. Crooks chaired the League of Women Voters study of county government from which a booklet was published and used by OSU's Political Science Dept. She served on Oregon's Council on Crime and Delinquency and served as President on the Board of Trustees to Children's farmhouse, a private agency serving emotionally disturbed adolescents.
