Curry County Fair Opens By Evan Kramer

This weekend the action on the south coast takes place at the Curry County Fairgrounds in Gold Beach. Gates swing open for the Curry County Fair and Rodeo at 10:00am on Thursday, July 24. Thursday is Senior Citizen Day and seniors are admitted for $3. Friday's big event is the NPRA sanctioned rodeo at 7:30pm. Tickets for the rodeo are $5. Saturday features the fair parade starting at the Port of Gold Beach and proceeding through downtown Gold Beach on Highway 101 to the fairgrounds. The parade begins at 11:00am and is always a lot of fun. One year I participated in the fair parade and won a fourth place ribbon in the political category. Of course there were only four entries but what the heck I got a big colorful ribbon. There are many parade participants this year including two bands providing live music. One is Billie's Brass Band. This is a 22 member marching band from Portland. The other band in the parade is the Southern Oregon Scottish Bagpipe Band in their Anderson Tartan Kilts. They are from the Rogue Valley and have been in existence since 1931. Billie's Brass Band will also appear at 1:00pm on outdoor stage for a show. The Scottish Bagpipe Band will appear on the green at 2:00pm. State Senator Veral Tarno will be a parade participant as will Mark Creighton, a candidate for Sheriff in next spring's primary. The Vietnam Veteran's of America Chapter 757, will be represented in the parade by a color guard consisting of four flag bearers and two riflemen, followed by a truck carrying 42 POW/MIA flags representing 42 Oregon POW/MIA's that are missing and that the Pentagon has declared dead.

The NPRA rodeo returns to the main arena on Saturday night. The Curry County Fair is now on the Diamond Circuit which means that rodeo contestants aiming for championships must attend this fair as part of their circuit. Bo Pinz of Idaho will provide the livestock for the rodeo. Cyndy Wellman, of Gold Beach will sing the national anthem and accompany her singing with hand signing of the words before the rodeo begins.

The fair closes at 5:00pm on Sunday but not before the beautiful animal contest in the barn at 10:30am and sound of metal against metal at the demolition derby in the main arena starting at 3:00pm. Another highlight of Sunday's fair entertainment is the first public presentation of the play "The Boy Who Talks With Whales". The play is directed by Carol Malley and features the acting talents of ten young people from Port Orford and Langlois. They've all been busy practicing the play at the Community Building. The play will be presented at the outdoor stage starting at 2:00pm.

Admission rates for the fair are $5 for adults, $2 for children 6-12, under 6 are admitted for free, a family pass is available on Sunday for $10 and a season ticket for adults is sold for $12. Tickets for the rodeo and demolition derby are not included with general admission and are an additional $5.

Special rates are available for the amusement rides on Thursday and Sunday. For $10 you can purchase an armband which will allow you unlimited access to the Butler Amusements rides in the midway all day.

The County Fair is like homecoming week in Curry County. It's a chance to see and visit with friends and relatives from Langlois to Port Orford to Gold Beach and Brookings. It's also an opportunity to see how talented your friends and neighbors really are. Many will enter their prize flowers and vegetables in the floral building. Others will display their artwork and photography in the Docia Sweet Hall while others haul their animals down

Senior News By Mary Yoder

July 17th the volunteers who worked were: Betty Harper, Kay Neal, Lorraine Hass, June Black, Gayle Lee dishes Bill Butt – June Dennison setting up the dining room. Later I was told helping clean up and dishes were E. David Klein, Judy Klein, and Holly their daughter.

Now, July 19 was the 60th wedding party for the Beldens. What a great turn out. Even our new chief of police came and you know what? Hand cuffed those two – they had already been together 60 years. His plans to keep them together longer. Any way their kids and their kids all showed up – a good time was had by all.

Pinochle was July 21st. Only one man showed up so he was high and low – E. David Klein. Ladies high Bunny Planton – Low guess what – two ladies tied Mary Sherod and Maybelle Beith. Now forward – July 26 is the luncheon at 11:30am – the rummage sale from 8 till 1:30pm. The other morning I went to the center – here was Patty and Roald Young making home made dinner rolls – dozens and dozens. If you ever ate one you would come to every luncheon from now on – really special.

Tuesday, July 29, at 11am is the Membership Meeting, after over to the Port and Starboard Restaurant for pizza – all you can eat – pizza salad and Frank's surprise dessert.

Been meaning to give credit to our volunteers who take care of the office Lucille Douglas, Betty Keeler, Norma Ellis, Lorraine Hass, Harold Trimble, Gloreen Godfry, Bobbetta Kron, Thelma Lagace – I hope I haven't missed anyone. This means answer phone – greet visitors, etc. What would we do without them?

Now I'll leave you with this

Community Building Design

Over 30 people attended Creating Our Community Activities Center: Part II on Thursday night, and the overall response to schematic design drawings for renovation of the Community Building was very favorable. Major features in the proposed $1.7 million, 21,000 square foot Center include the addition of a 4200 square foot library, an upgraded, moveable stage, meeting rooms, office space, covered outdoor atrium, and fireplace lounge. James D. Tronson, AIA, presented drawings and a 3-dimensional model that showed the relationship between the existing buildings and the new Center. Mr. Tronson estimated that construction would take 12-14 months once the project begins. Ed and Nancy Dowdy, co-chairs of Port Orford's Community Resource team (CRT) volunteered to head up a fund-raising committee for the Center. Some concern was voiced that the final plans reflect the visual character of Port Orford. One neighbor wanted to make sure that soundproofing would be added and that parking management be considered. The City Council will discuss the Community Building at its next meeting.

Fishing Boat Winchuck Burns By Evan Kramer

The fishing boat Winchuck caught fire on Thursday afternoon, July 17 and by 6:30pm that night was completely destroyed but still smoldering.

The thirty-six foot long, seventeen thousand pound boat had been moored in the Port Orford harbor while owners Merle and Judy Hassett and Bob Walker made repairs to it. The boat was twenty five years old. The Hassetts and Walker had owned it for one year but had just brought it down to Port Orford on Monday.

The fire began a little before 3:00pm and began as an electrical fire in the starter. Judy Hassett spotted smoke coming out of the boat. When Bob Walker got out to the boat and opened the door of the cabin the fire flashed causing him to be singed. The fire then quickly spread. The Winchuck burned loose from its moorings and floated south to the jetty, pushed by northerly winds, where it rested and what's left of it still rests.

Merle Hassett told me the Coast Guard was called and their advice was to "let it burn". 100 gallons of diesel fuel was on board all of which was consumed by the fire. There was no fuel or oil spills related to the fire.

The Port Orford Fire Department responded to the fire a little after 3:00pm. The fire department's efforts to put the fire out proved futile. They got as close to the boat on the dock as they could and attempted to put water on it with the deluge gun mounted on top of the truck. The water didn't reach the boat.

The spectacular fire brought out hundreds of area residents and tourists. Most viewed the fire from the overlook but others joined the fire department, sheriff's department and ambulance crew on the dock.

Ventriloquist

Steve Taylor of Portland invites you to Celebrate Reading at a special show Saturday afternoon, July 26 at 2:30p.m at Port Orford City Council Chambers. Taylor gives programs at libraries and schools to motivate children. Junk Art

Your neighbors or the business next door may be building their entry for the Junk Art Exhibit during the 1997 Port Orford Arts and Seafood Festival on Saturday and Sunday, August 9 and 10, just two weeks away. Have you started on yours? Don't be left out. Join in the fun. Look around for junk and use your imagination to make something wonderful, or funny, or just plain weird.

This year there will be several categories, including Kids, Teens, Adults, and Organizations. The special Organizations category will be for businesses or clubs making sculptures from "junk" associated with their activities. Prizes will be awarded in each category.

Junk Art entries should be brought to the Community Building between 7 and 9pm on Friday, August 8. Junk Art pieces must fit through the doors of the Community Building and not present a hazard to viewers. Each artist is responsible for removing the piece from the Community Building at the end of the Arts Festival.

A Castaway Art Sale of artists "seconds" will be set up in the Community Building as well. Everyone is invited to view the Junk Art Exhibit and browse through the Castaway Art Sale at the Community Building on both days of the Festival. For more info about the Junk Art Show, the Castaway Arts Sale, or the Arts Festival, call 332-0131, 332-4340, or 332-0045.

Jobs for Teens Program

North Curry Families' and Children's Center in conjunction with the Port Orford Arts Council has been offering day camps for Summer Arts and Recreation at the Youth Center in Buffington Park. We now have funding to continue the program free of charge to all youth until August 30. The program will be structured so that ages 5-13 will enjoy activities Monday-Friday from 9am-3pm. 14-19 year olds will have activities from 3-7pm. Saturday hours will be 11-3pm. The activities sometimes involve hiking trips away from the center so call first to check for any special hours. Special events will be scheduled for Friday nights thanks to super volunteer Colleen Harrison. In addition, there are exciting new activities for teens in the RAD Jobs for Teens program which combines Recreation + Adventure + Development for Jobs for teens. Call NCFCC for more about these new developments at 332-9191.

Letter to the Editor,

Because of malicious rumors, speculations and misinformation concerning our activities on our property in Sixes, we wish to advise our friends and neighbors of our true intentions.

1. We are converting some pastureland into cranberry bogs.
2. We are working very closely with government agencies to ensure that all activities are prudent and legal.
3. We are well aware of wet land areas in parts of the acreage. A consulting firm is delineating these for the Department of State Lands and the Army Corps of Engineers.
4. Designated wet land areas will be treated according to state and federal regulations.

5. We have no plans to drain or damage the ponded wetland area through which Sixes River Rd. passes.

Some people, including a neighbor we believe to be upset because I will not sell him part of my property for less than I purchased it, have contacted regulatory government agencies about our activities. Only ONE concerned individual bothered to contact me. He was quickly satisfied when advised of actual facts, rather than relying on rumors.

Our intent is to earn a living, contribute to the community and be wise stewards of our land. Both my wife and I were raised in this community. We love the area and have children and grandchildren we hope will continue to live on this land. If you have any further concerns please contact us. I would be happy to explain any of our activities in detail.

Roy Martin

Thank You

The Port Orford Fishermen's Association would like to thank all the people who helped make the 4th of July Jubilee salmon barbecue a success. We served about 360 people – roughly a 30 percent increase.

Though there isn't room to name everyone involved, we want to note the Women's Fishery Network; Bandon Fisheries and Hallmark Fisheries for donating shrimp; Driftwood School and the administration for use of the facility; the good tunes played by Tom Varley and the Sun Dogs; all the members and their families and friends who helped with the preparation, service and cleanup; and especially, the community for its support.

The barbecue is always fun and we look forward to making it a part of Port Orford's festivities again next year!

Radio Station Upgrade By Jim Britell

People have noted that in some areas of Port Orford, our new radio station KSBA at 89.3 is operating with very high distortion and sounds really lousy.

This is because the station is still undergoing installation and only broadcasting at a minute fraction of its full power output and without certain filters necessary to its operation.

KSBA expects to make a final technical visit to the tower in a few weeks to install several thousand dollars worth of electronics and they expect that full quality and power will be established at that time. This station will be the first translator in a string of repeaters down the coast and so is planned to operate at a high level of signal quality. Various topographics problems of terrain and sighting have created some complex engineering problems which I am assured have all been solved.

So please bear with us for a few more weeks.

And how and when and where.

boat, which was appropriate since he spent much of his adult life in the Coast Guard, and as a commercial fisherman.

Our last contact with Eric was a response Valerie recieved on January 9, 1996 after wishing him a happy birthday via email. He gave his birthdate as 01-06-02 and said, "Had a super Birthday, lovely presents, Dinner, cake and loving care. Spoiled. I am in great shape. arthritis [sic] problems at times... having a ball with computers. I prefer my note book. [I assume he meant his notebook computer.] autobio now at 1970. Greetings to all. love Eric." Eric, I hope someday I get to read your autobiography. I've seen a few sections and it looked pretty exciting!

One thing Eric told me more than once referring to his longevity. He used to say, "you can't kill a Swede". Eric made it to 95 years young so he was almost right. He lived a good life and those who knew him are all a little richer for the experience.

"Everybody has the right to express what he thinks. That, of course, lets the crackpots in. But if you cannot tell a crackpot when you see one, then you ought to be taken in."
- Harry S. Truman

Remembering Eric Reutercona By Evan Kramer

Valerie and I received a call Tuesday night from Sue Chesselet. She called to tell us she had read an obituary for Eric Reutercona in this week's edition of the Port Orford News. Sue had recently asked me if I had heard from or talked to Eric Reutercona. I told her I hadn't heard a word. Valerie had tried to contact Eric some months ago via e-mail but hadn't received a response. She had also called but no one answered the phone. Eric had moved to Warren, Texas a couple of years ago with his new wife, Suzanne.

Eric had a lot of good friends in Port Orford including Valerie, Nancy and myself at the Fun Zone. We used to visit him frequently at his home in Geer Circle when his wife Hazel was alive. Eric was devoted to her and made her care at the end of her life his top priority. But he still made a little time for himself. He bought a computer and jumped into learning how to use it with a vigor I haven't seen in people half or a third his age. Remember he didn't get involved with computers until he was 89. Eric even read the manuals and instructions. He referred to Valerie as the computer guru and appreciated her "house calls". When he was in the mood Eric would treat us with some impromptu music by playing a few selections on his electric organ.

One thrill Eric truly enjoyed was when he was named grand marshal of the Port Orford Jubilee Parade three or four years back. He got to ride in a Coast Guard

Skate Park

A group of citizens interested in developing a skateboarding/rollerblading facility in Port Orford had an organizational meeting Tuesday night. Those attending the meeting formed into a Project Team comprising skateboarders, business owners, Parks Commission representatives and Port Orford's Parks and Recreation Planner.

Port Orford's recently passed Parks, Recreation and Open Space Plan recommends siting a skateboarding facility in Buffington Park. The Team discussed design and funding options for the facility. The Project Team will meet again on Tuesday, July 22nd, at 6pm in the Council Chambers at City Hall. The regular meeting of the Parks Commission will follow at 7pm. The public is invited to attend both meetings. If you have questions about the Skate-Park Project call Jason A. Seivers, Parks and Recreation Planner, at 332-3681.

Carlin (and Hahn) bring their unique and enjoyable sound with its roots in country.

Admission to the jam is $5 and separate from the fair's gate fee. Proceeds of this concert benefit the Oasis House Shelter. Advance tickets are available at KGBR Radio or the Gold Beach Chamber of Commerce. Call 541-247-7211 or 541-247-7526 for more information.

NCFCC

The North Curry Families' and Children's Center (NCFCC) will hold its regular monthly meeting on Thursday, July 24th at 6pm in the Port Orford City Council Chambers. The public is welcome and encouraged to come and participate. The group is working with community partners towards the vision impact that families are safe, healthy, self-sufficient involved members of the community. We manage the North Curry Service Center and Youth Center project. Call NCFCC for more information at 332-9191.

What is Web TV?

Web TV is one attempt to make the Internet available to everyone at low cost and without having to learn to use a computer.

Web TV consists of a box that you attach to your existing television set and plug into your phone line. A separate keyboard is sold as an option and you will really NEED it so be sure you get it at the same time. The whole package (both pieces) should cost about $300-500 and allows you to surf the World Wide Web as well as send and receive Email.

In addition to purchasing the hardware, you also need to sign up with two services. You must set up an account with the Web TV people. This account costs $9.95 per month. You also need an account with a local Internet Service Provider (ISP) such as @Harborside. This account typically costs about $19.95 per month.

I got a demo of one of these units last winter and it looks like a workable solution for simple, low-cost Internet access. For more information, call @Harborside at 469-8844 or 1-800-680-8855.

Curry General Hospital

Questions on X-rays, CT scans or ultrasounds? Need a free cholesterol test or blood pressure check? Curious how fat clogs up your arteries? Depending on what day it is, Curry County Fair attendees will find all the answers they want and more.

Medical providers will chat personally with visitors on topics ranging from CT scans and mammograms to "hands-on" globs of fat when Curry General Hospital hosts its annual fair exhibit, Thursday through Sunday, July 24-27.

Nurses and technologists will be available for individual questions at the hospital's exhibit in Docia Sweet Hall on the Curry County Fairgrounds in Gold Beach.

Starting Thursday, "Lab Day," the first 20 visitors to the hospital's exhibit will receive free coupons on request. The coupons are redeemable at Curry General Hospital's laboratory any weekday, from 8 to 5 through August 31st. Cholesterol test usually cost up to $25 through physician's offices or professional labs.

Friday, "Rad Day," technologists from the hospital's radiology department will descend on Docia Sweet Hall. Visitors can observe x-ray films of broken limbs and objects such as a starfish. Department staff will answer questions on the hospitals pending new CT scanner and new ultramodern imaging equipment.

Saturday, after the parade, visitors can drop by the hospital booth for "Globs of Fat Invasion Day." Health educator Ginny Hochberg, R.N., will talk about the meaning of "heart healthy," and offer hands on exercises for all ages, 2 to 92.

Sunday is "Breast Health Day," with Bets Byrtus, coordinator of Curry General Hospital's Breast Health Network. Herself a breast cancer survivor, Byrtus offers advice, preventive techniques and demonstrations, and resources for all women concerned with outliving the nation's current breast cancer epidemic.

In addition to the exhibit's daily specials, hospital volunteers will take free blood pressure checks and engage visitors in the second annual beanbag game of Medical Jeopardy. Children's stickers and educational handouts will be given away. Visitors can also purchase raffle tickets for the hospital auxiliary quilt, which will be displayed throughout the fair.

For more information, phone Curry General Hospital, (541) 247-6621 or 1-800-445-8085, ext. 109.

to Gold Beach where they get to spend four days in the livestock barn being admired. For me the livestock barn is at the top of my list of areas I enjoy at this or any fair. My favorite animals are the pigs and goats. One area resident, Kathryn Jamieson, told me she was going to have 50 entries in the fair. Of course to the fair manager and board members one of the most important number of entries is how many people go through the turnstile. See you there.

Next up on the local fair schedule is the Coos County Fair in Myrtle Point. The fair opens on Wednesday, August 6 and runs through Sunday, August 10.
