Council Eliminates City Manager Position By Evan Kramer

The Port Orford City Council held a special meeting on Monday night and special it was. They hired a new police clerk and eliminated the job of city manager. There were only two items on the agenda. The first one was a routine item concerning hiring a police clerk. Police Chief Russ Hunt spoke to the council about the new police clerk. Her name is Kathleen Affusso. Hunt told the council she had been recommended to the city from South Coast Business Employment Opportunity under the work experience program. South Coast pays her salary. They did the screening process on her and Hunt also interviewed her. The council ratified the contract for Kathleen Affusso to work as police clerk.

The council moved onto the agenda item referred to as Reorganization of Port Orford city government. A document entitled Administrative Assistant to the City Council stamped "confidential" was distributed to both council and public. City attorney Randall Tosch and councilor Ralph Donaldson wrote it. The opening paragraph of the two-page document reads as follows:

General Duties: The Administrative Assistant will be the coordinator for activities of the Port Orford Council and different city departments, the general public and other governmental agencies. Work is performed under the direction of the City Council. The Assistant will be responsible for ensuring utility billings are accurate and sent out in a timely manner.

Tosch was present for the meeting and explained the different forms of city government in Oregon. He said most cities run on a city council-city manager system. He explained the Port Orford City Charter makes for a strict council form of government. He told them the power is with the council and that the position of city manager is not mentioned in the City Charter. He said the reorganization would place the decision making power back in the hands of the council.

Councilor Ralph Donaldson took the microphone and explained some of what was going on. He gave a little of the history of the city manager position going back to 1973. He said the city clerk back then needed a promotion and became city manager. He said the city was near collapse under the city manager prior to the current one. Donaldson stated "we now have a strong manager in every department". He said there was too much redundant management and that it appeared drastic changes were necessary.

Councilor Robert Warring had read the job description for the administrative assistant thoroughly and had several changes to it he recommended. He made a motion for the council to accept the job description with the changes he recommended. The vote was 4-2 against. Warring and councilor Carl Eskelson voted yes on the motion while Donaldson, Jim Campbell Ruth Jamieson and acting mayor Tim Sparks voted no. Donaldson said he wanted to get the situation over with. The majority of the council agreed with as Jim Campbell made a motion to accept the job description as written with no changes. It passed 4-2 with Campbell, Donaldson, Jamieson and Sparks voting yes and Warring and Eskelson voted no.

Acting Mayor Sparks then read Resolution 97-11. This resolution rescinds the position of city manager/treasurer as created in Resolution 350-86. Resolution 350-86 was passed and adopted on April 14, 1986 during the tenure of then Mayor Mary Yoder. Resolution 97-11 creates the position of Administrative Assistant to the Council. Donaldson made a motion to accept the resolution. It passed 5-1 with Robert Warring voting no.

The city recorder and treasurer position will be split. Norma House will serve as city treasurer. The position of city recorder will be advertised in the newspapers.

Ralph Donaldson made a motion to put on the council agenda for their next regularly scheduled meeting on August 11 a review of the administrative assistant's job description. The motion passed 5-1 with Jim Campbell voting against it.

Ralph Donaldson offered a motion to appoint Jim Poland to fill the new position of administrative assistant to the council at the salary of $24,000 a year. Jim Campbell noted a satisfactory background check had been run on Poland. The motion passed unanimously.

Ralph Donaldson then made a motion appointing Daniel Georgeson to the permanent position of city clerk at a salary of $8.50 per hour. This motion also passed unanimously.

The council then went into executive session in the office. They returned half an hour later and adjourned without any further public comment.

City Manager Dotti Myer's name was never mentioned by anyone on the city council or the lawyer at the council meeting except by myself when I questioned the council about their actions. Jim Campbell told me she had been invited to the meeting. To the best of my knowledge the City of Port Orford no longer employs her.

Arts Council Meets

The Port Orford Arts Council will meet at 7:00 p.m. this Friday at the North Curry Service Center. We invite you to join the intense madness of putting together all the last minute details for the Arts and Seafood Festival that's happening August 9 and 10.

Pioneer Sesquicentennial By Wendell Bird

Sat., July 19 at the Port Orford Cemetery, 220 headstones were hand washed and scrubbed by the more than 25 workers from the Port Orford Branch of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. More than fifty headstones were raised and leveled. Fresh dirt was brought in to fill the sunken areas or holes around the graves. Katrina Montgomery coordinated the work project for the Cemetery Board.

Men, women and children worked from 9am until 1pm. Dirt, moss and lichen obscured the writing on the headstones making it difficult to read the names, dates, and loving messages. Now each headstone can be seen clearly.

This type of project was commonly seen throughout the world this month in commemoration of the sesquicentennial of the arrival of the Mormon pioneers into the Salt Lake Valley. In 1847 hundreds of men, women and children walked, pushed handcarts or drove covered wagons 1,031 miles from Winter Quarters, Nebraska Territory (now Florence outside Omaha) to arrive at the Great Salt Lake. This journey was a mass migration that helped open the west for colonization.

Members of the Port Orford LDS church said they were honored to have done a small part for their community in recognition of their pioneer ancestors who sacrificed so much. "Faith in every Footstep" was the church theme for the sesquicentennial year. It was the pioneers' deep faith in God that gave them the courage to make their difficult journey possible.

To The Citizens of Port Orford By Carl Eskelson Member Port Orford City Council

Recently we, in the City of Port Orford have experienced controversy over the entertaining and feeding of wildlife, which leads to problem wildlife encounters.

The key to avoiding problem wildlife encounters is keeping unwanted wildlife out of homes, buildings and yards.

Do not feed wildlife! Keep pet food inside. Feeding some birds is okay, but be aware it may attract other animals. Place bird feeders where they are not accessible to other wildlife species. Wild animals are capable of finding plenty of food on their own.

As cities and counties grow and subdivisions impact wildlife habitat, wild animals are often displaced. Some species continue to live in open space areas, parks, undeveloped parcels of land, river bottoms and on or near bodies of water. Others have adapted well to urban living; skunks and raccoons in particular, seem to thrive in and near cities.

The presence of wildlife in town is usually a delight to most residents in close proximity; however, other wildlife many times causes problems. Most people agree a family of skunks under the porch or a squirrel in the fireplace can be unsettling. Many people encounter these situations, yet few know what to do about them.

If you have a wildlife problem call the ODF&W, Monday - Friday, from 8:00am to 5:00pm at this number, (541) 888-5515, or write wildlife biologist, South Coast District, 4475 Boat Basin Drive, PO Box 5430, Charleston, OR 97420.

Board Elects New Officers

The Port Orford Rural Fire District board of directors met on July 8, and elected new officers. Chairman Bill Foster and Secretary Lu Cobb had served the board in those positions for the previous eight years but retired at the end of June. The board elected Evan Kramer as Chairman, Vern Larson as Treasurer and Gayle Wilcox as Secretary for 1997-98. Brice Wagner and Bill McMullen fill out the five-member board.

Last year the board leased a one-acre lot in Cedar Terraces from the City of Port Orford. They have now cleared the lot as the first step toward construction of a fire station on the property.

Mike Robison and Stan Hodney from Coos Forest Protection Association visited at the meeting and spoke about mutual cooperation between their organization and the rural fire district. Robison, the Gold Beach district ranger for Coos Forest, said fire season started the next day on July 9. He noted that landowners need to get the proper fire permits before burning. Coos Forest number at their Bandon Four-Mile fire station is 347-3400. The rules for Coos Forest do not apply within the Port Orford city limits. Fire permits in Port Orford may be gotten by contacting Fire Chief George Gehrke at the city hall phone number, which is 332-3681.

The Rural Fire board meets on the first Tuesday of each month at 7:00pm, at the city hall fire station. The public is welcome to attend the meetings of the board.

Well, it's that time of the year again, time to bid a fond adieu to the annual Summer Reading Program. This year's program was a great success with a peak attendance of 24 children. Participants in this year's program got to romp in Wonderland and enjoy its delicacies, be creative with pizza, sample a little Mexican cuisine, roast hot dogs over an open flame, and go wild at a Kiddie Carnival. For those of you who couldn't make it, you missed a great time. There were five children this year who met the goal of reading 10 books: Daniel Undell, Dawn Georgeson, Ben House, and John & Peter Swenson. Hats off to these hungry readers!

For any younger children who did miss out on the exciting Summer Reading Program, do not hesitate to join in on all of the fun just waiting for you in our Summer "Read To Me" Program!!! Beginning at 10:30 a.m. on August 7, 14, and 21, all preschoolers are encouraged to participate in fun filled activities, story time, and a special graduation party. You won't want to miss it. See you there!

We are most fortunate to have Buzzy Nielsen and Robin Childs (two Pacific High School Seniors) working at our library this summer. Buzzy and Anne Cox were in charge of our Summer Reading Program and Robin designed the 3 week Read to Me program. Much work is being accomplished amidst much fun - stop by and see what's new on the shelves.

Just Look At Me Now by Jane Cramer for the CRT

One of the busiest intersections in town is 7th and Washington as many people pass through each day on their way to the bank or post office. People notice the little blue house at 640 Washington as they go by because of its unique appearance.

Although the house has been home to several businesses such as a used clothing store, sandwich shop and second hand store, it has been a residence for about the last ten years. The present occupants have lived in the house since the mid 80's and have erected a fence, added decking and planter boxes to the front porch and put down paving stones and white gravel for an inviting entrance area.

Rodney Boss, who has a natural wood carving talent, carved the unusual figure-heads and the totem pole. He enjoys working on his creations so much that he can't even estimate how many hours of labor have been invested in each carving.

Raw materials for the carvings were all found on local beaches. The two figure-head carvings were made from redwood logs. The intriguing totem pole was carved from a Port Orford Cedar log and was designed from pictures and information provided by some friends who live in Alaska.

A Strange Visitor

The cat came running in with its tail all fluffed out. That was the first clue that something strange was afoot. When 2CJ teacher Stephanie Stevens looked outside she saw a pot bellied pig in her yard! A hunt was begun to find its owner while Stephanie and Murleen O'Hearn kept the pig under control by enticing it with tidbits of fruit.

The story has a happy ending. Its owner

Klamath Rails-to-Trails advocate Betty Anderson of Keno will receive the 1996 Doug Newman Memorial Trails Achievement Award on August 5 at an Oregon Parks and Recreation Commission meeting in Klamath Falls.

Anderson was nominated for the honor by the Oregon Parks and Recreation Department's State Recreation Trails Advisory Council in recognition of her efforts to save federal funding for the OC&E Wood Line State Trail, as well as her past work in promoting the rails-to-trails project. A long-time member of the Klamath Rails-to-Trails Group, Anderson rallied public support to save a federal Intermodal Surface Transportation Efficiency Act grant that the OC&E project had been in jeopardy of losing in 1996. The funds enabled OPRD to pave 3.5 miles of the trail at its Klamath Falls end.

The Doug Newman award was established by the State Recreation Trails Advisory Council to recognize outstanding accomplishments on behalf of recreation trails. Past winners of the award, named in memory of a former member of the advisory council, were Walt Schroeder of Gold Beach (1993), Lolly Skillman of Medford (1994) and Mark Flint of Molalla (1995).

Letter to the Editor,

Mr. Martin informed me on July 25th that unless I paid him $7000, he was going to cut down the magnificent old growth Sitka Spruce trees that bordered my property and the Sixes River Marsh. Mr. Martin said in his letter to me that he needed the money and that he wanted to make room for his farming ventures. I am not sure what farming activities he plans to do in the marsh.

The marsh is inhabited at various times by Virginia rails, nesting pairs of mallards and green wing teal, wood ducks, blue herons, common egrets, kingfishers, wild canaries, common gold finches, red wing blackbirds, starlings, robins, beavers, raccoons and otters.

I believe that early pioneers to provide a windbreak for the town site of Sixes planted these spruce trees. They, along with the Sixes Hotel, are the last remaining historical attributes to the old town site of Sixes.

Mr. Martin's threat to cut down these beautiful old trees is an unjustified malicious act. They are irreplaceable landmarks that have very little value as commercial timber. He plans on killing 100-year-old historical resources and turning them into fence posts to make monthly interest payments. This is a very poor way

Color Theory Workshop

Have you always wanted to learn more about how to use color effectively in your paintings, quilts, or other visual arts? Enroll in the upcoming Color Theory Workshop, taught by Marlene Gay. This 2-day workshop will be held on August 7 and 14, from 12:30 – 3:30pm, at Port Orford's St. Johns Catholic Church. Cost of the workshop is $12. The workshop will introduce basic color theory. The first session covers the color wheel, color hue, intensity and value and color mixing. The second session covers the emotional impacts of color and its compositional uses. For more information on this workshop, contact Southwestern Oregon Community College, at 247-2741 or leave a message at 332-1325.

Skateboard/Rollerblade

Port Orford Skateboarders, parents and business owners met with Parks Commission Chairman, Ernie Gordon, and Parks and Recreation Planner, Jason A. Seivers, for a second time last week to continue planning for a new skateboarding/rollerblading facility in Buffington Park.

Working together, the skateboarders created a clay model representing their vision of what the facility should look like. Architect James D. Tronson, AIA, is donating his time to assist with refining the model created by the group.

Parents and business owners talked with Gordon and Seivers about establishing a Youth-Business Partnership in cooperation with the North Curry Families' and Children's Center to assist in developing this and other projects for youth in North Curry County.

Skaters also discussed creating a voluntary "Code of Conduct" for skaters and bladers as a good-faith gesture to show the community that they are committed to the Project.

The group meets again on Thursday, July 31 at 6:00pm in the Community Building, and the meeting is open to the public. Business owners, parents, skaters and rollerbladers are especially encouraged to attend.

How Does Your Garden Grow?

You are invited to the next dinner meeting of the Langlois/Port Orford Christian Women's Club on Wednesday, August 6, starting at 6:30pm. Women of all ages are welcome! The dinner will be held at the Port Orford Senior Citizen's Center and the cost is $6.00 per person.

The special feature this month is "Parsley, Sage, Rosemary & Thyme". The talk is about herbs and will be given by Ann E. Lee of Sweet Annie's Nursery in Langlois.

Kathy Smith of Gold Beach will provide the entertainment entitled "Potpourri".

The speaker this month is Jackie Sutcliffe getting "At the Root of it All". Jackie is from Happy Camp, California. She is a school bus driver, loves life in the mountains, and enjoys fishing, hunting and hiking.

Reservations are essential and cancellations necessary and may be made by calling 332-5402 or 348-2466. Preschool childcare is provided.

World Breastfeeding Week

If you would like to help protect your baby from childhood cancers, juvenile onset diabetes, Hodgkin's Disease, decreased incidence and severity of allergies, dermatitis, middle ear infections, respiratory infections, diarrhea, constipation, asthma, food allergies, Crohn's Disease, lupus erythematosus, urinary tract infections and death would you do it?

You can, studies show that breastfeeding your baby for at least six months can help reduce the incidence of these diseases. Other advantages include IQ scores and better school performance, better visual and oral development and increased mother child bonding. Moms who breastfeed have a reduced risk of breast, ovarian and uterine cancer as well as osteoporosis and a faster recovery after childbirth.

WIC and The Curry County Nursing Mothers Council would like to salute all women and families who have, who are, or who will breastfeed their children!

The United States Department of Agriculture has issued a statement proclaiming the week of August 1-7, 1997 as WIC (Women, Infants and Children) National Breastfeeding Week.

On Saturday, July 19, Hanneke Cassel won first place in the open class division of the Columbia-Pacific Scottish Fiddle competition during the Portland Highland Games. Cassel had recently returned from a trip to Scotland where she studied fiddling and step-dancing on the Isle of Skye.

In August she leaves for San Francisco where she will teach at Alasdair Fraser's Valley of the Moon Scottish Fiddle School. Hanneke, along with six other young fiddlers from the school, will be recording a CD of traditional Scottish music to showcase youth involved in world music, produced by Gargoyle Records. Ryan and Cali McKasson who have performed with Hanneke in Port Orford will also be featured on the CD, which will be released in December.

Put A Little Magic In Your Life

Have you read about the game, "Magic, The Gathering." It's created a multi-million dollar industry and is probably the hottest thing since Monopoly.

Now Wizards of the Coast, the makers of Magic have come out with a new series aimed at people who want to learn Magic but who want to start with a simplified game. Their "Portal" series of cards allows you to get the feel of the game and to learn the basic rules. When you're ready, you can graduate to the full game. Or not since the Portal game can be every bit as much fun as "the real thing!"

Want to know more? Come by the Downtown Fun Zone and ask. Be one of the first wannabe players to ask and just maybe we can work a little magic of our own and send you home with a smile on your face and some cards in your pocket. Check it out today!

Senior News By Mary Yoder

Today is the last day of July.
My goodness how it did fly by.
Did you all stay busy?
I did, I'm a little bit dizzy.
Next is August, number eight.
All we can do is sit and wait.

Next I was very happy to see our van driver Lilia Starratt back on the job. You know she has been ill – Kay Neal took over and did a very good job as the driver. As always if you need a ride 9:30am till 12:30pm Mon. thru Fri. call the center.

July 24 Rotary luncheon – volunteers who worked were Jan Dacayana, Edwina Dean, Mary Evans, Patty Young, Roald Young, June Dennison setting up the dining room – dishes Chet Dacayana.

July 26 was the luncheon – volunteers were Jane Black, Thelma Lagace, Bessie Laurson, June Dennison doing the dining room – dishes Bill Butt, money Clair Stahl and coffee Peigi Stahl. Had a real nice turn out. Doing the rummage sale – Henry Kron, What's his name, Bobbetta Kron. These people work other times getting things ready for the sale – not just on sale day.

August 3 is the birthday party for these August birthday people and everyone else who can sing happy birthday – Mary Carbone the 6th, Ina Lefter the 7th, Camilla Zimmerman the 8th, Larry Kuczynski the 17th, Everett Oscarson the 22, Roald Young the 24th, Gordon Doke the 26th, Muriel Gehrke the 29th and Betty Harper the 30th.

July 29th was the membership meeting more about it next week.

I was told I missed two of our office workers – so sorry here are their names – Pauline Lenox and Kay Neal.

Saturday, August 9th, at 11:30 is the luncheon and the rummage sale from 8 – 1:30. On August 10th the breakfast from 8am till 1:30pm also rummage sale same time – will close with this.

Said the Robin to the sparrow,
I should really like to know.
Why these anxious human beings
Rush about and worry so.
Said the sparrow to the robin
Friend I think that it must be,
That they have no heavenly father
Such as cares for you and me.

Majorly Musical Evening

This Friday night the Lightin' Bugs are sponsoring a great musical evening at the Port Orford Community Building featuring the local talents of Hanneke Cassel, Antique Dog and the Reef Band.

The music starts at 7:00pm. Tickets are $5 for adults and $2.00 for children 12 and under. Tickets are available in advance at the Chetco Federal Credit Union, Klamath 1st Federal, Downtown Fun Zone, Lichtig Law Office and the Port & Starboard Restaurant or can be purchased at the door on Friday evening.

I spoke with Eddie Houck of Antique Dog. He told me Antique Dog will be performing acoustic during their set on Friday night. He said they plan on doing some songs with Hanneke Cassel. The Reef Band is led by Stephanie Hazle. The Reef Band plays country-fishermen's folk. Desserts, candy, soda pop and coffee will be for sale at the concert.

This concert is a benefit for the Lightin' Bugs Christmas Light Project. In a little more than four months the Lightin' Bugs with the help of Coos-Curry Electric Co-op will hand the festive Christmas lights up and down Highway 101.

Letter to the Editor,

In response to Mr. Roy Martins letter that was published in your paper on July 23rd, I have a few comments. Mr. Martin states in his letter that;

1) "We are converting some pasture land into cranberry bogs." Mr. Martin fails, however, to mention that the rest of the pasture he wants to turn into a 14,400 square foot water bottling plant complete with truck parking, loading docks and retail sales (Curry County Planning Commission application AD-9717).

2) "We are working closely with government agencies to ensure that all activities are prudent and legal." Only after several people called to alert state agencies that Mr. Martin's was wantonly bulldozing a wetlands.

3) "We are well aware of wetlands areas in parts of the acreage. These are being delineated by a consulting firm for the Department of State Lands and the Army Corps of Engineers." Mr. Martins awareness was heightened by a Cease and Desist Order filed by the Division of State Lands for his repeated encroachment of the wetlands.

4) "We have no plans to drain or damage the ponded [sic] wetlands which Sixes River Road passes." In fact, Mr. Martin had the County Road Department drain the wetlands by dredging a ditch along the lower portion of the property. The water level in the Sixes River Marsh has dropped dramatically since Mr. Martins stewardship of the land began.
