Chamber News By Evan Kramer

The Port Orford Chamber of Commerce met on Monday afternoon at the Port and Starboard Restaurant and took care of a lot of business.

Chamber president Ronn Kerr reported that at the Transient Lodging Tax meeting the committee recommended the Chamber receive $3,600 in bed tax funds. The Chamber had requested $5,000 for tourism promotion.

Kerr recently resigned from the America's Wild Rivers Coast board of directors. The Chamber board voted to name Emily Francona as the Chamber replacement for Kerr on the AWRC board.

Port Orford Public Library librarian Tobe Porter attended the meeting and spoke about the second annual Port Orford Bargain Holiday on Saturday, December 6. The first one held last year and promoted by the library and Chamber of Commerce was a rousing success. It raised $7,000 for the new library building fund. This year businesses will be asked to pledge up to 5% of their sales on December 6 to the construction of the new library. The Friends of the Library and Port Orford Public Library Foundation will promote this day as a day to shop in Port Orford. Last year they spent $600 advertising this event up and down the coast. December 6 is the day of the E.S.A Christmas Bazaar at the Community Building and Port Orford will also host four other holiday bazaars. The Chamber board passed a motion to support the event and provide $200 in printing costs for the brochures and flyers for the bargain holiday.

The Chamber of Commerce Christmas party and social mixer will be held on Friday night, December 5, starting at 6:00pm, at the Joan of Arc Vacation Home. Grace Bonnell owns the Joan of Arc and is hosting this mixer. She is looking for someone to play the piano at the event. Bonnell said the children's Christmas party would be held on Sunday, December 14 in the late afternoon. It is annually held in front of Driftwood Elementary School.

Board member Marilyn Oberbeck said the Chamber should encourage businesses and homes along Highway 101 to decorate their places for the holidays and that they be judged and prizes awarded. Chamber board members enthusiastically supported the idea.

Kathleen Sandlin told the board next year's Wind Fest will be held on June 5 and 6.

The Chamber hosts ODOT project engineer Ray Cranston at its membership meeting on October 27, 1:00pm, at the Port and Starboard Restaurant. Everyone is invited.

Outfall Project Update

No one can say the Port Orford City Council doesn't put in the effort and work it takes after Monday night's meeting. They met with Steve Donovan and Roland Young from SHN Engineers, the company handling the engineering work for the sewer outfall project, for two hours.

Steve Donovan did most of the speaking for SHN and updated the council on where the project was as of Monday night. He said the pipe pulling went very well but then the contractor found an "irregular bottom" on the ocean floor, which has caused the contractor to ask for change conditions. The contractor had done a 200 foot by 100 foot bathymetric study of the area in addition to a video. The video showed a flat surface. Because of the irregular bottom conditions where the pipe came out of the rock into the ocean several changes have had to be made. The contractor has to fill in the troughs with concrete placed in woven nylon bags. They will then pack

Quilt of Hearts

Quilters and friends packed the educational room at the Quilter's Corner, in Port Orford, Tuesday, Oct. 7, when the Curry General Hospital's Breast Health Network hosted a luncheon to honor those involved in Port Orford's Quilt of Hearts project.

Elaine Pendleton, quilter and coordinator of the project, presided over a moving ceremony where quilt block donors described the friends and loved ones for whom their blocks were created. Each block represented a person who has survived breast cancer or who died of it. Quilters named mothers, aunts, sisters, co-workers, in-laws, grade school buddies, cousins, walking partners, fellow quilters and bridge partners.

Shelly Vogel of Langlois spoke in memory of her seventh grade teacher, Mary Smith Cutshaw.

Another quilter honored her husband, a survivor, adding that there is "little publicity concerning breast cancer among men ... and he's all man, not effeminate at all."

The quilt is comprised of 40 blocks made by 32 quilters. The quilters are Dottie Barnes, June Bauman, Nancy Busso, Betty Chittenden, Pat Chittenden, Della Cunningham, Carol Currier, Julie Donaldson, Marcia Donaldson, Debbie Dorman, Bobbie Everest, Martha Fowkes, Vurel hale, Caroline Halfwasse, Robi Hanna, Esther Jarvis, Annette Mayer, Carol McDonald, Jerry Metz, Bonnie Moyer, Elaine Pendleton, Pat Powell, Julie Schaer, Millie Seales, Sue Smith, Marilyn Smithson, Susan Stetter, Pat Stewart, Anita Thomas, Piney Van Ripper, Shelly Vogel, Karen Wallace.

The event also included a delicious buffet lunch catered by Ruth Jamieson of Port Orford, and an informative talk on breast cancer and early detection by Carol Milne, FNP, of Curry Family Medical.

The Quilt of Hearts was made possible by support from the Curry Breast Health Network and generous funding from the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation, Oregon & SW Washington Affiliate.

The piece will tour around Port Orford for the next year. Currently it is on display in the Curry Family Medical clinic, 525 Madrona. In November, it will move to the Port Orford Senior Center. During December, it will hang in the Historic Hughes House near Cape Blanco.

For more information, phone the Curry Breast Health Network, 1-800-445-8085, ext. 187.

Senior News By Mary Yoder

October 9 was Rotary luncheon – volunteers working were head cook Ed Dowdy, Arlyne Mossholder, Al Granados – setting up the dining room – was told Bob Hale was coming in later to do dishes. All did a fine job. The luncheon was very nice. The dessert was special – made by Ed Dowdy.

Ed and Nancy Dowdy are co-chairmen of the nutrition committee. Isn't it great the volunteers work so well together.

October 12 was breakfast. Volunteers working were head cook Roald Young, others doing their part Marge Kyle, Dolores Care, Carol Suchy, John Suchy, Al Granados, Owen Miller and Lucas Faalilo – a student – all did a fine job. The food was super. The bacon was just how I like it. That was a new item. I hope they have it again. When I left they had served 116 and there were still others coming. Paula Cracas at the moneybox. Rummage sale what's his name and Lois Ambrose.

October 6 was pinochle – high scorer was Barbara Knapp, second Venita Marstahl, low Roger McSharry. All had a fine time. October 20 pinochle at 7:00pm. Best come and bring a friend.

Just got to say this – we now have 151 members. How about 160 for November 1. Bet it can be done.

Blood pressure every Tuesday morning. Walking group Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday 8:30am.

Art and quilting every Wednesday from 9:30am to 3:00pm.

Osteoporosis exercise 5:30pm on Monday and Wednesday.

TOPS Mondays at 9:30am and 6:00pm.

Wheelchairs, etc. are available at the center. Need something – come in and sign up. No charge.

The one decorating the center so nicely was Paula Cracas.

October 25 is the birthday luncheon at 11:30am – also rummage sale from 8:00am to 1:00pm. Did you know the birthday people have a free lunch. This time October birthday people best come and enjoy.

Forest Service Road Closed

During a recent inspection of the Upper Bald Mountain Bridge located in the NW one quarter of Section 20, T332, R14W, at milepost 0.9 on Forest Service Road 5502020 considerable rot was found to many of the support members. This rot was serious enough that immediate action was required. Road 5502020 has been posted at both ends with "Road Closure Ahead" signs; "Road Closed" signs and barricades have been placed at both ends of the bridge. Soon earthen mounds will be placed at each end of the bridge to assure that the public is safe. In addition, Cedar Swamp Bridge No. 3358 milepost 14.9 and Lower Rock Creek Bridge No. 3347 milepost 1.0 are scheduled for repairs during the month of October.

This press release was issued the Powers Ranger District, Siskiyou National Forest. Upper Bald Mountain Bridge is not scheduled to be repaired. Forest Service Road 5502020 is permanently closed at Upper Bald Mountain Bridge.

Langlois Library News Viv Williams, Director

Published in Great Britain and not easily obtained in the United States, "The Full Cupboard of Life," the fifth book in the No. 1 Ladies' Detective series written by Alexander McCall Smith is now available at the Langlois Library through the generosity of Board Member Deanna McDermott. Deanna purchased it on her recent visit to Ireland. Enjoyed by men and women alike, "this series tells the story of the delightfully cunning and enormously engaging Mma Ramotswe", The New York Book Review calls Mma "the Miss Marple of Botswana."

Students to Write Guidebook

North Curry Family and Children's Center, through the R.A.D. Outdoor Club, has been awarded a federal grant to produce and publish a hiking guidebook to Curry County. The project was the idea of Cathy Boden, veteran leader of the R.A.D. Outdoor club and the Exploring our Backyard series of hikes. According to Boden, "People are always asking me for tips about where to hike, and I thought it would be a great project for Outdoor Club students, to research and write a guidebook that could help local residents and tourists figure out good places to go."

When author and former guide Ann Vileisis moved to town last year, Boden realized she had found a good co-leader to help with the writing and publication aspects of the project. The two applied for and received the needed grant monies. The project will get underway in the first part of November. R.A.D. Outdoor Club members, Megan Hughes, Kelsey McKenzie, Shari Odson, Alyssa Rush, and Lacy Weinblatt, have already signed on as student coordinators. Other North Curry students interested in committing to the project are welcome to apply.

The dedicated students will spend weekends hiking, mapping, and collecting information for 15 hikes in north, central, and south Curry County. They will also do research and writing on topics such as local geology, history, weather, trees, ferns, wildflowers, and berries to include in the book. Those students who commit the most time to the project will be listed as authors of the book. Community credit hours will also be awarded for time spent on this project unless class credit is awarded for parts of the research.

Boden and Vileisis plan to make this project a fun and educational experience. "Putting together a book is a lot of work," explains Vileisis, "but we think students will find it very rewarding." Boden says that students will provide a great asset for locals and visitors alike by producing this guidebook. "We are excited to begin soon because we want plenty of time to create a great book by the time school is out in June 2004."

For more, call NCFCC at 332-1042, or talk to the project coordinators listed above. Applications will be accepted until Oct. 31.

Guest Speaker at Church

Dr. Thomas J. Kindell will be teaching a Creation vs. Evolution Seminar at the Port Orford Christian Center commencing Sunday, October 19. Dr. Kindell was once an ardent evolutionist. However, through his exposure to the scientific case of creation, he became a zealous creationist. He has been teaching on the subjects of scientific creationism and biblical apologetics for more than twenty-three years. This seminar has been recognized as one of the best in the nation and has been highly recommended by Dr. Duane T. Gish, Vice President of the Institute for Creation Research. Please join us.

Dr. Kindell's schedule:

Sunday, 9:45am - Is there a monkey in your family tree

Sunday, 11:00am - Can the bible explain the origin of the races

Sunday, 6:30pm - The great dinosaur deception-exposed!

Monday, 6:30pm - Evidence in earth's crust for the flood

Tuesday, 6:30pm - Young earth evidences

Wednesday, 6:30pm - Out of place artifacts

Book Sale is Giant Success
by Tobe Porter, Library Director

Despite tired bones and aching muscles, there were big smiles all around when we learned that the Friends of Port Orford Library made nearly $2,500 at the Fall Book Sale.

We thank the community for braving our first good rain to stroll down the long aisles of books, selecting bags of treasures to take home and enjoy. Hopefully, you strolled far enough to sample the sinfully delicious treats provided by the Friends, and had a chance to partake of the excellent salmon lunch provided by the Fishing Community. All in all, it was quite a busy and successful weekend at the corner of 11th and Washington.

We all know such a large event couldn't happen without many, many willing and strong hands. On behalf of the Library Board and Staff, I thank the following people for their very hard work and continuing dedication to our library.

Library Receives First Grant
by Tobe Porter, Library Director

It is with great pleasure and much enthusiasm that I announce the Port Orford Public Library Foundation received a $15,000 construction grant from The Autzen Foundation in Portland. There is just nothing quite as fine as the very first grant; it clearly says to all concerned, "we're on our way!" What is especially amazing is that the grant request was written by committee. Not just any committee mind you, the best grant writing committee. Nancy Angelesco, Paulianne Balch-Rancourt, Nancy Broadhead, Carrie Carr, Elaine Owen, Carrie Rogers, and I researched foundations, obtained funding guidelines, participated in a grant writing workshop, penned sample grant applications, and pulled it all together into one excellent project description (if I do say so myself). Congratulations to all!

I called Robin Stewart, Administrator of The Autzen Foundation, to express our excitement about this first grant, and she told me a little more about the foundation. It is a family foundation that has been around since the early '50s. It is the third generation that now sits on the foundation board—sisters, brothers, cousins—and they are very proud of the grants they make. I think it is most fitting that a small, family-run foundation be the first to support construction of our new library. $215,000 and counting. . . won't be long now, only $1.2 million more to go.

Common Good News

It's now official, the Common Good is collecting receipts from Ray's and will be able to turn those receipts in for cash to help meet expenses and buy more food. Thank you to everyone who donates Ray's receipts. We would be happy to accept the receipts any Wednesday at the GoodHouse or whenever you see a Common Good Volunteer around town. Shoes for Children was a great success. All the needy children in our community started school with new shoes and socks. Thanks again. Finally, the last day to buy Ducks to race in the Mingus Park Duck Race for prizes is Thursday October 16—Good Luck- Ducks may still be purchased at the Port Orford News Office or at the Fun Zone. A portion of the proceeds will benefit the Common Good. We are gearing up for our Holiday/Turkey boxes distributed over the holidays. Volunteer help and donations are greatly appreciated. ### Resolution to be Introduced

In its ongoing effort to help restore the Constitutional rights, which have been eroded since the passage of the USA Patriot Act, the Port Orford Bill of Rights Defense Committee will introduce a resolution for adoption at the Port of Port Orford Port Commission meeting on October 21. If adopted, the port district will be added to the 184 cities, towns and counties and 3 states that have passed such resolutions. There are now over 25 million people represented in this rapidly growing national grassroots effort to restore our freedoms.

Letter to the Editor,

The Friends of the Port Orford Library would like to take this opportunity to thank those who came out this past Saturday and Sunday to support our semi-annual book sale. There was a fantastic turn out on both days. Everybody who came went away with some great books at great prices. We would not be able to hold these book sales without this unbelievable support from our local community. The three families that donated large collections of books helped make this one of our biggest and most profitable sales. Our sincere thanks to Bessie Laursen, Merlene and John Stockman, icious (and healthy) goodies this side of heaven. We Red Hatters were to just bring our own brown bag lunch and all other food and beverage was provided by our hostess. True to the Red Hatters credo, no business was discussed, just some planning for future get-togethers (like having a presence in next year's 4th of July Parade, maybe getting together with one of the Red Hat groups in Bandon and having an evening out, like going out to lunch or shopping together).

The next event will be held at the home of yours truly. It's to be a pajama breakfast party, on Saturday, October 25 from 9:30-11:30 a.m. My house is at the top of Tichenor Street, above the Port of Port Orford. Everyone's invited, even if you've never been to a Red Hat event before but are dying to find out what all the fuss is about. Just call me, Jeri Thurkow, at 332-0557 and let me know you'll be coming over. I'll be serving some delicious egg dishes, a choice of libation, and some sweets, of course. Don't forget, pj's are mandatory and it's Red Hats and Purple pj's for the over-50 crowd and Pink Hats and Lavendar for the under-50s.

Come on, give me a call, you know you're curious. We welcome all women who just want to have fun. So, until I hear from you, it's "ta ta" from the Countess of Scribe.

City Hall Water Damage

Things are almost back to normal at Port Orford City Hall as they recover from last week's water damage. The City has been remodeling city hall including decommissioning one of the two bathrooms in the office part of the complex. A water pipe, which had been crimped and shut off as part of the remodeling, broke off where it meets the concrete floor on Tuesday morning. The water rushed out for approximately 20 minutes and flooded the offices. The water worked its way under the door and into the police department. Quick work by city workers got the water line breakage contained. City employees with wet-dry vacuum cleaners went to work cleaning up the water while others got any equipment or paperwork off the floor and above the water.

The City hired Joseph's Janitorial Service based in Coquille to clean up the damage and they were still at work on Monday night of this week. The carpet looked so good after their work this reporter thought it was new.

fiberglass rebar through the concrete. This will then make a stable platform for the concrete mats, which are to be placed over the 54-foot long diffuser unit. Each of the concrete mats weights 8,000 pounds.

Councilor Jim Auburn asked Donovan who's going to pay. Auburn asked, “doesn't the contractor share some of the risk with us?” Donovan replied that this contractor “will take the matter to court.”

Donovan cleared up a misstatement in last week's paper concerning the placement of the concrete. He said so far 200 bags of concrete have been filled in the troughs. Jim Auburn asked how much money we were talking about. Donovan said an extra $100,000 in work and $100,000 in weather days, also known as stand-by days. Donovan asked the question whether or not the project should be finished next spring.

Donovan said the contractor needs 5-7 good weather days to finish this part of the project (placement of the diffuser, concrete mats, and concrete bags.) He said there was $400,000 available in contingency funds. Donovan said the stand-by time was adding up to $5,000 a day. He presented an offshore weather forecast through Saturday, which showed increasingly high seas starting Thursday.

Donovan said we have until November 15 to complete the project, which he described as “half way” done (the ocean part). He suggested the contractor use a tug rather than the barge for the concrete bag work. The barge returned to Coos Bay last week because of the high swells. Donovan said it was possible to use local divers for the concrete work. Donovan asked the city council if they were going to acknowledge a change of conditions tonight. He said the contractor had a legitimate claim for a change of conditions because of the ocean bottom. He said the extra work and weather days have already added up to $122,000.

Councilor Auburn said he wanted the contractor to get as much work done by October 31 before the council decided whether or not to pull the plug on the project (until next spring). He noted that a couple of weekends ago when we had perfect weather no work was done by the contractor. He said that much work could be done independent of the barge. Donovan will present a report to the council at their Monday, October 20 meeting and have the change order ready for the council to vote on. The council decided to go for it and see if they can get this part of the outfall finished this year.
