Coos-Curry Board Meeting By Evan Kramer

The Coos-Curry Electric Coop Board held their regular monthly meeting on Friday, February 18, at 9:00am, at the Coop's headquarters.

The board recognized the members present and then voted to approve the consent calendar, which included the minutes of the previous meetings and list of new members.

Next on the agenda were the monthly financial reports. General Manager Werner Buehler said they were thinner than in the past because of a short month. Buehler said the Coop was currently working with their new auditors Moss-Adams.

Chief Financial Officer Doyle Eden said the new automated payroll system was working well. He discussed outsourcing of the safety training and that they had hired a new insurance and safety analyst out of Spokane, Washington. Eden said the Coop would get consistent high quality safety training and that they had advertised locally but couldn't find a local person to fill the position.

Eden said the Coop received the SHARPS award from OSHA, which reviews the Coop's safety procedures and issued the award. This indicates a superior safety position.

Eden then gave the financial report. There were 16,600 accounts billed in January for a total of $2,571,374. The Coop collected $2,306,066 from 14,476 checks. 1,669 final notices were mailed for not paying. The Coop paid out $2,322,418.76 in accounts payable with 245 checks. Eden said the power bill was the major part of the accounts payable. He said the gross payroll was $350,000.

Eden said the Coop had ordered new fax machines and a computer accessory called air cards which will enable an employee to access the Internet wherever they are working as long as they are in cell phone range. The air card is plugged in back of the computer and as Eden said, "makes us global." He said the Coop was barcoding its inventory and that bar codes would be put on all equipment.

The Coop web site is up and running and the address is www.cooscurryelectric.com.

Eden discussed the condition of the headquarters' building. He said it was 20 years old and that the heating and cooling system needed to be fixed. The cooling system as it currently exists is opening windows. The Coop is getting bids on replacing the roof and talking about making changes to the sunroom.

Werner Buehler discussed the power supply report. He said the water inflow on the Columbia River was 80% of normal and that market prices were high. He said the hydro system is burning its fuel (water) now. He described the amount of water flowing through the Columbia River this year as a big unknown.

Board chairman Terry Hanscam discussed what he called the "summer spill" on the Columbia River for salmon. He said it could double electric rates. He said there was also discussion about limiting barge traffic east of the John Day River, which would cause havoc with grain farmers. He said the summer spill for salmon cost ratepayers $75,000,000 last year and that the total spent on salmon recovery in the Columbia River system was $6.5 billion so far.

The board discussed the annual meeting timeline. The sixty-seventh annual meeting will be held on Saturday, June 18, at Pacific High School in Port Orford. The nominating committees will meet by May 6 and the ballots will go out to the members by May 31. There are three members on each nomination committee. Board members recommended dropping the number of board members from nine to five by 2008. The board approved the members voting on a change to the Articles of Association, which would change the number of board members and zones from nine to five. Zones 1 and 2 would be in Brookings with zones 7,8 and 9 shrunk down to one zone. Gold Beach would be one zone and there would be one in Port Orford and one in Coquille-Myrtle Point. A motion to present a by-law change to the members to vote on regarding this issue was passed by the board. This issue was worked on and recommended by the citizen advisory committee. We were told at the January board meeting that the board costs the Coop $230,000 a year. They are paid for the meetings they attend, travel expenses for meetings and full medical benefits.

Chairman Hanscam was asked if the basic rate ($33.00 for residential users) would go down now that the Coop's financial position if getting better. He said no and that the market rate for residential users would be $37.50.

The board discussed the six employees who were furloughed last year. They have not been replaced. Four new positions have been created since then and people from out of the area filled all four positions. The furloughed employees were given a chance of applying for the new positions.

The consulting firm hired to do the safety training will be paid $26,000 a year. The Coop hired a company in Minnesota to get set up to handle the Coops emergency phone calls and then pays a yearly service fee to handle them. The charge for setting up the service was $20,000. A request was made to General Manager Buehler to see the statistics on how the board saved money ($60,000) by outsourcing their mailings to Sterling Bank in Portland. Buehler questioned whether the board wanted to spend the time on the issue but board members Dave Itzen and Jean Shank said they were interested in seeing those figures. A meeting will be set up with Doyle Eden to see how the Coop saved so much money by outsourcing and it will then be reported back to the owner-members in this paper.

Next month's board meeting will be held in Brookings on March 25 in conjunction with the Coos Curry Electric 2005 Home Show which is held on March 25 and 26.

Welcome to new members, Camp Blanco RV, RV Village, and Serenity at Garrison Lake. Thanks for your professionalism and the fine services you offer.

Camp Blanco RV. Owners, Jeff and Angie MacFarlane bought Camp Blanco RV Park in October of 2003. The MacFarlane;s came from Redding California, and also lived in the Seattle area for about 4 years. Jeff has worked mostly in retail management over the last 15+ years, but spent the last 5 as the Vice President of a nationwide criminal background check company. Angie worked in Redding as the principal buyer for a global microscopy corporation. They have 3 children, Matthew, Miranda and Mason.

Jeff and Angie were drawn to Port Orford for its calm and beautiful environment, as well as the great people in the community. They found Camp Blanco on a 700-mile motorcycle ride up the California and Oregon Coast. "We were welcomed to the town like we couldn't believe, like we had been here for years," Jeff said.

"Our plans here are really just to enjoy the area as a family, support and promote the local economy and hopefully do a good job of representing Port Orford. We will focus on attracting visitors to help our fellow businesses. Our goal is to make Camp Blanco one of the nicest and friendliest "full-service" RV parks on the coast."

The Arts Council is presenting "Wild Adven-Chair" Mari-Gras night, this coming Saturday night, the Feb. 26, at 7pm at the Community Building. The Arts Council is known for gala, fun-filled and food-filled, great events so you can be sure of a good time.

The next Board meeting of the Chamber will be on Monday, March 14 at the Crazy Norwegians restaurant at 1:00pm. On, Monday, March 28 the chamber membership meeting will be at the Port and Starboard at 1:00pm. Our guest speaker will be Kevin Poirier of the Portland Rally Club. He will be talking about a special Portland to Port Orford Road Rally on October 8 and 9, 2005.

CFCU Celebrates 25 Years

In March, 1980 "Working My Way Back to You" was streaming from radio speakers, gasoline cost just 90 cents at the pump, and television viewers were glued to their set, watching JR Ewing on Dallas. In the spring of that year the Gold Beach branch of Chetco Federal Credit Union opened to serve the businesses and residents of that community.

CFCU will host a very special Silver Anniversary Celebration during the week March 22—25. Members and non-members alike are invited to visit and participate in fun games and trivia contests.

Members can participate in a "Spin to Win" wheel game when opening a new account, including a chance for a premium of up to 1% to be added to a new Time Share Certificate! Prizes and treats will be available to visitors during the week-long anniversary party with 80's music and silver anniversary decorations throughout the branch. The branch will also host a business reception immediately following the Gold Beach Business Conference on March 10, between 5:00 and 7:00 pm.

Thanks to a group of interested community members, Blanco School in Langlois has had the benefit of a wonderful new program this school year: Start Making a Reader Today (SMART). This innovative, award-winning program can be found across the state, including right here in our own area in Bandon and Brookings.

SMART is targeted at kindergarten through third grade children. Teachers participating in the SMART program select several students from their classes who may be at risk for low literacy. Fifteen Blanco students are being given the opportunity to read with community volunteers twice a week to help build necessary reading skills that will prove crucial later in life. In order to encourage continued reading, students also select a book every month to add to their own personal libraries.

The caring, inspired volunteers who read with the children and coordinate the program provide a safe, nurturing environment that ensures that students learn at their own pace. Thanks to the safe and self-paced nature of SMART, students make significant progress with their reading that has positive consequences later in their academic lives, a point supported by a study by the Eugene Research Institute. Our own teachers can already attest to the great improvement experienced by students in the SMART program.

Of course, a program like this has two crucial needs: money and caring volunteers. If the SMART program interests any of you, we would greatly appreciate if you would be willing to support the program financially or with your time. In particular, we are looking for new members for our Leadership Committee, a group of people responsible for managing the program and raising the necessary funds to ensure the program's survival.

We are also desperately in need of a new chair for the Leadership Committee, somebody to coordinate the committee and the fundraising effort to maintain the program for next school year.

Checks may be made payable to Blanco School, with "SMART Fund" written in the memo field. Please mail any contributions to SMART program, Blanco School, PO Box 8, Port Orford, OR 97465. If you have any questions, please feel free to contact me at bn Nielsen@2cj.com or 348-2066.

Because of the good weather the crane operators have been able to get out and cut some brush, we hope to have things cleaned up for this summer to allow some overnight RV parking between the cannery and the fishermen's memorial, also the area on top of the hill to allow either public parking or boat parking. We are also looking at the least expensive way to get the top floor of the cannery in shape to rent out; we have about 2,800 square feet of usable space for rent.

Celebration of Achievement By Marv Ott, Superintendent

There were eight students honored at Pacific High School on Friday, February 18 for completing all the requirements for the Certificate of Initial Mastery or CIM. They are Rob Ashdown, Hildred Billings, Shannon Bowman, Travis Fraser, Megan Hughes, Daphne Smith, Matt Wayne, and Nate Wayne.

The second recognition was for students who achieved a 3.5 grade point average for better for the first semester of the 2004-2005 school year. This is the honor roll list that will be listed separately in the Port Orford News. Each of these thirty-eight students received a tee shirt with a Pacific High School logo, a certificate, a pin and a coupon book with free items from local businesses. Included are items like a cheeseburger and fries from the Port and Starboard Restaurant, a free video or game rental from the Downtown Fun Zone, and a free candy bar from McDonald's Wholesale.

The third recognition was the drawing for a one hundred dollar bill. Every student who participated in an extra-curricular activity like Pep Band, basketball, soccer or student council, got a ticket for each of those activities. All the money for this drawing was raised by Mr. Ott or donated specifically for this cause. Kelsey

Gore was the winner of the one hundred dollar bill. Mr. Ott then gave five other students a chance at drawing money from a box containing a twenty, a ten, a five and fifteen one-dollar bills. All five students drew a one-dollar bill. Better luck next time.

Are We Prepared?

"Earthquakes/Tsunamis Are We Prepared?" a public forum will be held on Wednesday, March 23 at the Port Orford Community Center beginning at 7 PM. The forum is sponsored by Curry County Emergency Services, Citizens for Emergency Preparedness and the City of Port Orford. "The purpose of the forum will be to review with the public the plans Curry County and the north county have in place in case we have an event", says County Commissioner Lucie La Bonte. La Bonte will be moderating the forum. "We have held forums in the past but with the events in Indonesia the public has many questions. Many new people have moved into the county and it is time to have more discussions." A forum was held in Harbor on February 17 with over 140 people in attendance.

Elvis and Other Chairs

The Port Orford Arts Council's Wild Adven "chair" third annual "Chair Art" auction and fundraiser is in full swing. This year local artists and businesses have decorated 40 chairs, which are on display through Friday afternoon at the Arts Council office. The chairs are for sale and the winner is the top bidder. Bids on the 40 chairs on Saturday night were $1,575. The bidding continues through Friday and then bids will be continue to be accepted at the Saturday night Mardi Gras party at the Community Building. Eleven of the chairs are in the business category and the other 29 come from area artists. People going to the Arts Council office to see the chairs are asked to vote for their favorite business chair.

Money raised from auctioning the chairs will go the Arts Council Summer Arts and Recreation program It will also go to

Letter to the Editor,

It is time to bring forward a permanent, stable funding for education. If it means a sales tax, so be it. I am retired and I have throughout my life enjoyed the opportunities the good education I received afforded me. Our youth deserve the same opportunities we were given. It is our obligation to our children, our community, state and country.

Oregon needs to be the leader in funding education. Adequately funded schools and high-learning institutions are investments that will pay dividends far more reaching than most of the plans now being devised to attract businesses. When states invest in their children and families a powerful drawing card is created.

Many states use a state sales tax to fund education and social programs. I support a tax on sales, because it is a fair tax, affecting people equally as long as we do not tax food.

Lottery Commission Director Penn has introduced a proposal to lower the retailer's rate to 15% for slots. While I applaud this proposal, it should be taken further to include the 15 % rate to all video lottery games.

Sincerely,

Gail Rathbun

Jubilee Pin Design
