Jubilee Schedule Available

The theme of this year's Port Orford Jubilee Celebration is "Honor & Remember Our Military". The Jubilee schedule is set and the brochure for it has been printed and being circulated in and out of town. The Jubilee events begin on Friday, July 2 with tours of the Cape Blanco Lighthouse by the Friends of Cape Blanco from 10:00am to 3:30pm. Later that evening the Theater 101 presents "Parallel Lives" starting at two week run. The Jubilee Committee presents "The Substitutes" live in concert that night at the Community Building. The Substitutes are known as Central Oregon's hardest working band and they're coming to Port Orford to show us how it is done.

Saturday, July 3 starts bright and early with the Beachcomber's Square Dance Club pancake breakfast featuring eggs, ham, and all the pancakes you can eat. The Beachcomber's Cover square dance club is located on Nicholson Drive at Milepost 298. The rubber duck race begins at 9:00am with the ducks being launched from the Iron Head boat launch on Elk River Road.

The Riders in the Wind horse riding club will put on a Freedom Horse Show all day at the at the Wilbur Green memorial Buffington Park horse arena starting at 11:00am. There is no entry fee for the events and food will be served. Also starting at 11:00am is the annual and always fun Keg Toss at Dock Beach aka Dog Beach.

Later than night the Beachcomber's swing back into action with plus dance and south of the Cove Theater 101 presents a second performance of Parallel Lives.

July 4 is of course the busiest day of the three day Jubilee with events starting at 7:00am and going through the fireworks which usually end around 10:30pm. Events begin with the sandcastle sculpture contest at Dock Beach while over at Driftwood Elementary School the Port Orford Rotary Club puts on its annual July 4 scholarship pancake breakfast. All monies raised at this breakfast go to the Rotary Club scholarship program and other community projects.

The two E ticket events are the parade and fireworks on Sunday with the parade starting at 11:00am sharp from city hall to Battle Rock Park. This year's parade Grand Marshal has been chosen and she is Sonja Mason; a great choice by the Jubilee Committee. Sonja Mason is our former postmaster in Port Orford and did a fantastic job there for many years and now is busy helping out with the Rotary Club and Senior Center among other activities. We also have a "Jubilee Queen" this year and her name is Ali Dunay. And you count on several politicians' smiling faces in the parade as well as your favorite local groups like the Rotary Club and State Parks and the fishermen. It's all good fun and my favorite part of the weekend.

The Ninth Annual pet show takes place in front of Pampered Pooches at Tenth and Idaho Streets. All kinds of pets are welcome, not just dogs and cats.

Over at Buffington Park there will be an unstructured local skateboard demonstration at the Port Orford Skate Park while up on Coast Guard Hill come out and enjoy the ninth annual Jerry Can Races at Port Orford Heads State Park; an event put on by the Point Orford Heritage Society. There are plenty more events over these three days so get yourself a Jubilee brochure or look for the complete schedule in this paper on June 30.

The fireworks begin a little after it gets dark at Battle Rock Park so figure around 10:00pm. Seating on the lawn and rock wall is first come first served so come early and enjoy the summer evening and then cap it all off with the fireworks display which is put on by the Port Orford Volunteer Fire Department led by our Fire Chief Gayle Wilcox. They do a great job and without the fire department there would be no fireworks.

CCEC Annual Meeting

Employees of Coos-Curry Electric Cooperative, Inc. (CCEC) are in the final stages of preparing for the 72nd annual meeting of the membership. This year's annual meeting, to be held July 17th at the Event Center on the Beach/Fairgrounds in Gold Beach, promises to be an educational and fun-filled event for the entire family.

"Be Prepared" is the theme with a focus on disaster and emergency preparedness. Local law enforcement, volunteer firefighters, Curry County's Emergency Planning department, Curry Health Network, Curry County Home Health and Hospice and Cal-Ore Life Flight will be on hand to educate members about the importance of being prepared. The first 300 members through the door will receive a "Be Prepared" bag and vendors will provide some items for the bags along with information on other items that should be added to the bag to ensure members have what they need to survive a disaster or emergency.

In addition to the Lions health screening van where members may have their sight, hearing and blood pressure checked, the Red Cross will be holding a blood donation drive. Friends of the Langlois Library will have a used book sale with 10 percent of the proceeds being donated to the cooperative's Round Up program to help less fortunate members pay their electric bills. CCEC employees are already gathering their used books to donate to the library sale. Members wishing to donate books for the sale may drop them off at the cooperative's Port Orford office.

The board of directors will hold a short business meeting to discuss the cooperative's financial condition and the past year's accomplishments as well as what may be expected in the coming year. Finally, the election results will be given. Stick around after the business meeting for door prizes, a light lunch and entertainment provided by local musicians. Registration begins at 9:00 a.m. and the business meeting will begin promptly at 11:00 a.m.

Information packets and ballots are expected to be mailed June 15th and must be returned by July 14th.

Ophir Rest Area Open

The Ophir Rest Area which has been closed since December of 2009 is now open according to State Park's area manager Frank Eckley. The Parks Department received a Federal Stimulus grant to upgrade the bathrooms at the Ophir Rest Area and the contractor has finished his work after a long delay. The fixtures were upgraded to ADA compliant and are made of stainless steel and the building was painted. This Rest Area offers convenient beach access as well as bathrooms, parking area and picnic benches.

Free the Trees

“Free the trees”, said the youngsters in Cathy Boden’s wetlands project. 7th graders Millie Redding, Jasmine Harcastle, Emily Brokaw and 5th grader Cameron Hickey gave a presentation at Rotary on how they have saved the life of the wetlands behind Driftwood School.

For the past year, Cathy’s elementary students have dug out invasive weeds around trees freeing the willows from ivy and cleared out nooks for educational projects and walking trails. 5th grader Cameron Hickey told how the ivy had pulled down an octopus tree but now it is growing, stable and “a good place to read.” Their wetland project has been a labor of love and they are so proud to have made it a better place to go after school. They have also learned the importance of wetlands in filtering pollution and providing a healthy environment for birds and animals. The children enjoy the clear stream and built “awesome tunnels” through blackberries. They are giving little tours and dream of camping all night this summer. The students in Mr. Betz, Mrs. Heckard and Mrs. Weinblatt’s classes made nature maps and detailed botanical drawings of closely observed plants. They have made a huge difference.

Cathy Boden is a Watershed Education Specialist for the Department of Education and Outreach.

Welcome to new Rotarian Sam Scaffo who was installed Thursday accompanied by his wife, Mary. Sam is a retired Navy officer who has been a helping with Rotary projects for years.

The Community Garden beds are finished and ready for planting. 15 are already taken but there are 5 left and you can share one with a friend. The cost is $20 to sign up for a garden bed. Don’t let the cost deter you if you really would like a garden, Rotary will help.

Letter to the Editor,

Great! That’s more like it folks. When people start writing letters that means they are starting to actually think about things. It’s too bad one of our papers has chosen to print only one side of a topic. Let’s try to better define our positions though. Remember that extremism seldom generates a positive result.

I find the letters praising the new development to be especially interesting. They go so far as to specifically compliment each other by name. The problem is that they essentially say nothing. We are all in favor of a successful business and any good it may do for our town. We are also all in favor of motherhood, apple pie, and patriotism etc. They remind me of the high school cheerleaders. . . pom poms, short skirts and boundless enthusiasm. Some of them even knew what sport was being played. The big problem here, Folks, is that their letters are all “me”, “me”, “me”, and “he”, “he”, “he”, and no “we”, “we”, “we”. “Me” is them and “he” is the developer and “we” is us, the town. “Me” and “he” will do alright because their businesses are not critically “site specific”. “We” will not do alright because Battle Rock and it’s “highest use “businesses are “site specific”. When you mix up site use in this way there always is a net loss and in this case that net loser is Port Orford.

Some of you please put this on your refrigerator door and we will continue.

Respectfully,

Jim Hajek

Sign-up for a Garden Bed.

After many delays caused by rainy weather, the Rotary First Harvest Community Garden is finally nearing completion. Rotarian's and others interested in the project have been working fervently on available dry days to get things ready for growing fresh vegetables in our community. The land has been cleared, the fencing is in place and the twenty beds have been built. "This week," said Rotary First Harvest Chairman Bill McArdle, "water lines will be run and compost and topsoil will be added to the beds ready for Port Orford's gardeners to plant."

A majority of the twenty beds have already been reserved but a few remain and interested gardeners are invited to come to the next sign up at 5:00 pm, Wednesday, June 16, at St. Johns Catholic Church.

The Rotary Community Garden is a project of the Rotary Club of Port Orford but beds will be available for anyone in the community. Gardeners will "rent" the 8 ft x 4 ft x 16 inch beds for $10 for the full season and will raise whatever crops they want. However, each gardener will be encouraged to give a portion of their vegetable production to Common Good for distribution. "The cleared area is large enough for approximately fifty beds," said McArdle, "but we are starting this year with just twenty beds until we better understand the needs of the community."

Live Music for Dad

Letter to the Editor,

A big Thank You to all of you who came out Saturday morning and helped with the Highway 101 Clean up & Beautification! There were a little over twenty volunteers mowing, weed eating, weeding in the sidewalk cracks, grass blowing and painting curbs. It was a fantastic start. More paint is needed to finish the yellow curbs and thank you to True Value for the paint and other donations. A big thank you to those who sacrificed your personal equipment to spruce up main street and other arteries throughout our community. We are planning on finishing up on the 26th to have our community ready for the summer season. For the second year so many of you have shown community pride and how coming together brings such a worthwhile positive outcome. Thank you again for your efforts to beautify our community.

Sheriff Department News by Sheriff John Bishop

On June 8, 2010, Curry County Sheriff's Parole and Probation arrested Gary Caughey for violations of his release from Prison. Caughey was transported to the Curry County Jail and the Oregon Parole Board was contacted.

With these violations the Sheriff has asked the Parole Board to deem Caughey a Predatory Sex Offender so that law enforcement has greater authority to release information for public safety. The Sheriff has also asked the Parole Board to revoke Caughey's Parole and send him back to prison to finish the remainder of his sentence.

These violations did not include any harm to individuals in Curry County and were violations discovered by investigative work conducted by Parole and Probation Deputy Kris Bishop. While a few of these violations were discovered while Caughey was living in Curry County, the Oregon Department of Corrections has been notified that Caughey had been deceitful to the prison authorities and has acted in a manner which may have violated Oregon State Statute, while he was while incarcerated. Due to Oregon State Statute and an ongoing investigation we are unable to release what these violations are in this press release.

The Oregon State Parole Board and the Oregon Department of Corrections are assisting in this investigation. Curry County Parole and Probation Deputies Kris Bishop, and Dennis Shannon have worked tirelessly with law enforcement since Caughey moved to Curry County and have spent a significant amount of time supervising Caughey making sure he obeyed his stipulated conditions of release and when it was found he had not he was immediately arrested.

On another note, Search and Rescue members, from Curry County have been asked to assist the search for the 7 year old Kyron Richard Horman who went missing from Skyline Elementary School in Portland after a science fair on June 4. CORSAR members from Southern Oregon are working in conjunction with Multnomah county helping relieve their Search and Rescue members who have been searching for the past seven days.

Book Signing Sunday

San Francisco author Ann Parker will discuss and sign copies of her mystery novels at 3:00pm, Sunday, June 20 at Gold Beach Books in Gold Beach. Parker will focus her talk on her latest mystery, Leaden Skies, the third installment in her "Silver Rush" series of historical mysteries.

Leaden Skies, a finalist for the Colorado book award, involves Ulysses S. Grant's interest in a boomtown silver mine, and the ensuing violent intrigue. Publisher's Weekly calls it "a gripping tale of love, greed and murder in the Old West." The preceding installment, Iron Ties, sees a small town erupt into violence as resistance to the new railroad line ignites controversy.

With degrees in Physics and English Literature, Parker is a science writer by day, authoring pieces on solar energy technology, chilled beam systems and human capital strategies. In the evenings, however, she imagines and pens tales about the old West. Parker's grandfather was a "gandy dancer" on the Colorado railroads and her Leadville, Colorado ancestors were part of the silver rush in the 1880's, which has helped instill in Parker a desire for authenticity and realism in her stories.

Before signing copies of her books, Parker will discuss how she researches the old west, and she'll relay stories about historic small towns, and other archives of the western frontier. The event is co-sponsored by Gold Beach Books and the Ashland Mystery group.

Those unable to attend may pre-order signed copies of Leaden Skies, or any of Parker's other works, by telephoning (541) 247-2495.

Letter to the Editor,

The Studleys, a Branding Axe, and the rest of the story...A Branding Axe of the Studley brand, hand made by a blacksmith in the thirties was found under my house on Port Orford Loop Road that the Studley family had built in 1939. I put out a call a couple of weeks ago to see if anyone knew how to reach the Studleys and thanks to Dolores Mayea; Jerry Studley was contacted, and last Friday morning he called me and the Axe is on its way to Washington State. Jerry tells me that he is passing the Axe on to his eldest son and the family is thrilled to have it as a piece of their family history. Jerry told me he used his father's Branding Axe when he was a young man. In return I received a wealth of information on the construction and trials and tribulations of building construction in the thirties and forties here in Port Orford. It's an amazing story. Thanks again Dolores for your help.

Letter to the Editor,

I would like to thank all who took a moment of their time to add their names and comments requesting “Corporate” replace my home where we could greet you as you come and go about your day. So much support for a little cat makes me sure you must care for each other very much in our little town.

Mr. K
Circle K Cat

that you provide three meals a day and a bedroom (either private or shared) with a host sibling of the same gender. Families are simply asked to provide a safe, warm, and nurturing environment while sharing their American culture with their student. The benefits of hosting an exchange student are many.

Via hosting a student you are:

Exposing your family to a new culture and language;

Growing closer as a family as you help the exchange student to learn about your town and area;

Experiencing the joys of having a new family member to love;

Practicing hospitality and generosity with your own family;

Developing a relationship with a foreign teenager that may last for years to come;

Supporting diversity and cross-cultural understanding in your own home;

Giving back to your community;

Helping to make a difference in the world.

Seeking Host Families

Port Orford-Langlois 2CJ Schools are seeking host families for the AYUSA Global Youth Exchange Program.

There are currently no less than five qualified students seeking housing in our District, all of which are outstanding in every way. Hosting an AYUSA exchange student is the perfect way to share your culture and traditions while experiencing and welcoming those from another country.

As an AYUSA Host Family, your financial responsibility is minimal. Your exchange son or daughter asks

There is no such thing as a “typical” AYUSA Host Family. Whether you live in a rural or an urban community, and regardless of the shape and size of your family, you are invited to host an AYUSA exchange student. Retired couples may enjoy the experiences of hosting a teenager for a school year. Families with children of any age will seek the benefits of bonding with a youth from a different culture. We believe that all families can benefit from participating in cultural exchange by hosting an AYUSA exchange student.

2CJ invites you to welcome a young person from another country to your own home and community. If interested, Regional Director of the AYUSA program, Kari Owens, is available to answer any questions you might have before undertaking such a worthwhile endeavor.

Kari may be reached at owens.kari@gmail.com or via phone by calling 541-396-5939.

Country Swing

Master guitarist Rapp Brush will offer a free concert at Gold Beach Books on Saturday, June 19 at 7:00pm. Rapp's music is a blend of country, jazz and blues, which he calls "country swing."

Well known for his rapport with audiences during performances, Rapp is a veteran performer at "honky-tonk" venues around the country since the 1960's, which included opening act appearances for country stars Farron Young, Moe Brandy and Bobby Bare.

Rapp is an expert at most guitar makes and styles; he will be playing his vintage Gibson on Saturday, among other instruments.

The bookstore is located at Pacific Highway 101 and First Street in Gold Beach. Seating is limited, so patrons are advised to arrive early.
